SEVEN VICTIMS OF A SIZZARD

Three Died of Heat Prostration and Four Were Drowned.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

Pedestrians on Fifth Avenue Sweltered With Thermometer at 104 in the Shade.

STORY OF A HEROIC RESCUE

Seven persons died, directly or indirectly, as the result of the extreme heat yesterday. They are:

DIED OF HEAT PROSTRATION.

JAMES BELT, aged 7 months, colored, of Negleys run, near Station street.

MAGGIE YATES, aged 2, colored, of 1021 Jordan alley.

JOSEPH VAZNIAK, aged 18 months, of 2404 Mission street, South Side.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

CLAYBURN CRALLE, aged 20, of Blawknox, Va., drowned in the Allegheny at Oakmont.

MAX SOKACH, aged 10, of Braddock, drowned in the Allegheny river.

UNKNOWN WHITE MAN, about 35 years old, drowned in the Monongahela river at Twenty-second street bridge.

UNKNOWN WHITE BOY, about 4 years old, drowned in the Monongahela river at McKeesport.

Fierce Heat in Streets.

Drownings and heat prostrations were the unavoidable accompaniments of the hottest day of the year. The temperature reached 90 degrees away up on top of the Farmers bank building, while in Fifth avenue thermometers showed 104 degrees in the shade. For a wonder the weather experts on the top floor of the bank building did not belittle the private thermometers, for they admitted that no doubt the heat was 10 degrees or more greater in the street, right where the people were walking and where they could not escape the heat.

Hot weather was prevalent all over the country, from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. In Chicago the mercury rose to 94 degrees. No relief is in sight, for the forecaster at Washington predicts that today will be warmer than yesterday.

The day was fair and therefore the amount of humidity in the atmosphere, ranging from 68 to 68, was unusual, that degree being ordinarily the accompaniment of a hot, cloudy day.

Two Degrees Mean Much.

From experiments made by the local weather men while they were moving from the Federal building to the Farmers bank, they judge that if the official thermometer had been on the roof of the post-office yesterday it would have registered about two degrees more, and two degrees, when the altitude of 90 has been reached, means considerable heat. On the 24th floor of the bank, on a level with Mt. Washington, 10 or 15 degrees would not matter much, for there seemed to be a high wind all day, and last night the wind was strong enough to blow a straw hat off, right in the room, too.

The following is the table of temperature compiled by the observers, beginning at 8 a. m., and ending at 8 p. m., showing a rise of 22 degrees in 11 hours:

8 a. m.	68	2 p. m.	87
7 a. m.	70	3 p. m.	89
8 a. m.	73	4 p. m.	90
9 a. m.	76	5 p. m.	90
10 a. m.	82	6 p. m.	89
11 a. m.	84	7 p. m.	88
12 m.	87	8 p. m.	86
1 p. m.	88

Heroic Efforts Were Unavailing.

Clayburn Cralle, with Percy, Harry and Sidney Lee, all of whom boarded at 807 Franklin street, Wilkinsburg, went to Oakmont yesterday. The four boys went in the river off the Oakmont boat house. Cralle was an expert swimmer and swam across the river. His companions watched him go over and start back again. Cralle was returning successfully until about 40 feet from the boathouse. Realizing that he was growing weak, he called to his companions for assistance. Harry and Sidney Lee went to aid him. The brothers reached him in time and started to bring him to shore. About 20 feet from the boathouse the brothers became exhausted with their burden and all three sank.

Harry and Sidney Lee soon came to the surface again. Sidney Lee looked around for Cralle to come to the surface and as he did not do so dived to the bottom for him. By this time a number of men were gathered on the shore and saw the boys were in trouble. When Sidney Lee dived for his companion and was underwater for a long time, his brothers became uneasy.

They asked the men on shore to assist

FRANK CURRAN ELECTED AS LABOR DAY MARSHAL

He Was Twice Balloted For at the Meeting of the General Committee—Parade to Be in Five Divisions.

At a meeting of the general labor day committee of the various trade unions Frank Curran, business agent of the Painters' and Paper Hangers' union, was elected chief marshal of the Labor day parade. The meeting was held at the committee room, 216 Fourth avenue, and Curran was twice balloted for before he was chosen.

J. J. McKee, business agent for the local plumbers' union, was chosen adjutant general. Joseph Ward, business agent for the Carpenters' union of this city, was elected chief of staff.

There were 76 members at the meeting. It was decided to have the parade in five divisions. The first division will consist of the unions visiting the city on the holiday. The second will contain the iron and glass workers. The third is to be made of the members of the building trades. The fourth division will be for the miscellaneous trades and the fifth be allotted to the miners of Western Pennsylvania. The meeting was conducted by Chairman John Feenan of the Knights of Labor. It is expected there will be 10,000 men in line.

The committee on arrangements has made every effort to have a successful gathering.

FRANK CURRAN,
Elected Chief Marshal of Labor Day Parade.

CHICAGOANS DIE OF INTENSE HEAT

Three Dead and Many Are Overcome—Hottest Day for Three Years.

TEMPERATURE REACHES 101

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Chicago, July 17.—Mercifully for the people of Chicago today was Sunday and a holiday for the majority. It was the hottest day the city has known in three years, and if the masses had been at their accustomed work, the death list would have broken all records. As it was, three died and many were overcome by the fierce glare of the sun and the high humidity.

The maximum temperature of the day was 94 degrees at the Auditorium tower, at 1 p. m. On the street level it was much higher, running up to 101 degrees at dozens of places. The thermometers at the Auditorium and Great Northern drug stores stood at 98 degrees at 4 o'clock, and those all along the business streets marked from 97 to 99 degrees. The minimum temperature of the day was 73 degrees, at midnight. The average for the day was 84 degrees. Until today, 92 degrees was the highest recorded temperature in Chicago since July 21, 1901. Upon that memorable occasion, the mercury climbed to 103 degrees and broke the records of 40 years.

PLAN OF PERDICARIS CONSIDERED ABSURD

Would Establish Bad Precedent to Place Raisuli in Control at Tangier.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, July 17.—The suggestion of Mr. Ion Perdicaris that his recent captor, Raisuli, should be put at the head of the Moroccо government, has been the subject of much discussion both in government and diplomatic circles. That it will ever get past the stage of discussion nobody seriously believes. While the United States and Great Britain may consider themselves bound by the terms imposed by Raisuli on the Moorish government as the price of the release of Perdicaris and Varley and permit the matter to drop, it is not to be credited that they would consent to have the outlaw honored as a result of his raid on their citizens, even if France would take kindly to the idea.

It would be a bad precedent and no foreigner would be safe in any semi-civilized country. This is the view taken of the matter by diplomats here. As a matter of fact, the French government, in a measure, would not consider Perdicaris' suggestion. A gentleman connected with the government said today: "The idea is absurd; too absurd to discuss seriously. Such an attempt would stir up such a hornet's nest in Morocco that it would cost hundreds of lives and millions of pesetas to quiet."

RUSSIAN VICE-GOVERNOR KILLED BY ASSASSIN

Crime Was Committed in Elizabethol, Close to the Persian Frontier.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—The vice governor of Elizabethpol was assassinated at 7 o'clock this evening. The assassination occurred at Adjahakent, a small place in the southeast corner of the government of Elizabethpol, close to the Persian frontier.

Elizabethpol, or Gelgvetpol, is a government in the Russian empire, in Transcaucasia, on the southeast, bordering on the Persian empire. Its area is about 17,114 square miles and it formed a part of the former kingdom of Georgia. The population, according to the latest official returns is about 330,000. The capital, bearing the same name, but sometimes called Ganja, is a fortified town 95 miles southeast of Tiflis. Formerly it was an important metropolis, being the residence of Persian khan, and of an Aghovarian primate. Near the city are towns, forming part of a German colony, known as Amenfeld and Telmendorf, which have a population of about 17,000.

FOUL PLAY SUSPECTED IN CASE OF LOOMIS

English Officials Are Suspicious Regarding the Wound Behind the Right Ear.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 17.—Reports to both the Press Association and the Central News assert that a further examination of the body of F. Kent Loomis, which was found yesterday at Warren Point, about 15 miles from Plymouth, has given rise to grave suspicions on the part of local officials that Mr. Loomis met with foul play. The wound behind the right ear is described as being circular, large and clean and it is said was inflicted before death. It is surmised that Mr. Loomis' body fell into the water near the Eddystone lighthouse. Joseph G. Stephens, American consul at Plymouth, in response to a telegram sent tonight, asking him if the local reports of foul play had any basis, or if he had any ground for suspicion regarding the death of Mr. Loomis, replied:

"I regret I cannot make any statements prior to the inquest, which will be held tomorrow. The wound on the head back of the right ear is the size of a half-dollar. The body is fairly preserved, especially about the top and back of the head, considering the time it has been in the water."

FORCES ADVANCE ON PORT ARTHUR

Marshal Oyama Said to Be Directing Land and Sea Attack.

SIEGE GUNS AT WORK

A Russian Guardship Passes Through the Bosporus from the Black Sea.

CHINESE TROOPS ARE MASSING

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

London, July 17.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Standard, in a dispatch, dated July 17, says:

"The Russian guardship Chernomoretz passed through the Bosporus from the Black sea this morning."

The Chernomoretz is a gun vessel belonging to the Black sea fleet, and carries two 8-inch guns, one 6-inch guns and seven quick firing and machine guns. She is equipped with two torpedo tubes, and carries a crew of 160.

CHEFOO, July 17.—(Special Cable.)—Reports reached here today from sources hitherto found to be reliable that a general land and sea attack is being made on Port Arthur today. The Japanese fleet has come in close to shore and is shelling the forts and ports, while the Japanese siege guns are all at work. If any infantry attack has yet been made, it is not known, but the general belief is that the artillery fire was preliminary to an attack in force.

Chinese refugees from the Kwan-Tung peninsula say that Marshal Oyama and his staff are with the Japanese forces in front of Port Arthur, and that Oyama is directing the investment in person. The Japanese force which was landed at Pigeon bay is marching on the Etz hill, and will attack Port Arthur from the west. The bulk of the troops which have previously been engaged have been operating to the north and east of the port, and are said to be in possession of nearly all the forts which formed the inner line of defense from that side.

No confirmation has been received of the reported death of Admiral Togo, and it is not believed to be true. The Chinese refugees declare that there is no foundation for the report that one of the Port Arthur ships has escaped.

Chinese Troops Massing.

SHAN-HAI-KWAN, July 17.—(Special Cable.)—There has been a significant movement of Chinese regulars to the north during the past few days. A full division is now to the north of the great wall, and the force is constantly being added to. Much secrecy is maintained as to the purpose and destination of these troops.

The Chinese officials declare that only in case of an invasion of neutral territory

BLAZING FIREWORKS TELL THAT HOMESTEAD IS WORKING

With soaring rockets and crackling fireworks the people of Homestead last night after church celebrated the resumption of the mills in full with all the workmen at double time. The entire town took part in the jubilee, which will directly affect 7,000 workmen, who have only been operating half turn for the past year.

When the general resumption became known after the evening services all the townspeople turned out. One thousand dollars worth of fireworks was used for the event, being donated for the occasion by the superintendent of the mills. There was great rejoicing on every hand and congratulations were passed from mouth to mouth. The display exceeded that given on the Fourth of July.

The 119-inch mill, which has been changed to an 84-inch mill, will be started in a week. By the starting of the mill at its full capacity 7,000 men will have steady employment.

ROARING FLOOD SWEPT THE VALLEY

Scottdale Dam Broke, Releasing 200,000,000 Gallons of Water.

THE PEOPLE FLED IN TERROR

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Scottdale, Pa., July 17.—With the roar like that of Niagara, the new reservoir of the Citizens Water company burst at midnight, and more than 200,000,000 gallons of water rushed down the valley, sweeping all before it, inundating crops and wrecking buildings in its path. It was discovered about 9 o'clock that the dam was in danger of breaking, and messengers were hastily sent through the valley to warn the people of their peril. Hundreds of lives were thus saved, for a few hours later the whole valley was under water.

The break occurred at the north side of the reservoir, a section of the retaining wall about 60 feet wide and 80 feet high being torn out. The retaining wall was about 200 yards long and the break is in the shape of an immense V. More than half of the remaining part of the wall is cracked and twisted as though wrenched by a mighty earthquake, showing the awful force of the flood. The damage to the machinery and reservoir alone is at least $50,000.

When the torrent swept down upon the valley buildings were torn from their foundations and carried on the crest of the great wave like so many washtubs. Crops valued at thousands of dollars were completely wiped out. Bridges were carried away. In the gorge just below the dam huge trees were torn out by the roots and stones weighing tons were overturned by the flood.

The new pump and engine installed Saturday below the face of the dam to pump the leakage back into the reservoir, were wrenched from their foundations, propelled 20 yards from the original positions and buried under the mass of wreckage from the wall. But for the fact that people living in the valley had fled to the hills when the messengers arrived, shouting at the top of their voices that the dam was about to break, the loss of life probably would have been appalling.

The dam did not give way all at once or the damage to property would have been even more heavy and the flood would have extended for miles down the valley. After tearing the first hole in the wall, millions of gallons of water escaped and the pressure in the reservoir was appreciably reduced before the upper part of the wall broke. The new dam was built just below the old one, and the wall between the two had not been removed. It is believed that the water remaining in the old reservoir, together with the supply from Mounds creek, will supply the town till the new reservoir can be repaired. All the coke plants that received their water from the Citizens company were out off today and water will be supplied only when it is imperative.

Half a Million Admissions.

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—Despite the rain of the early part of last week and the excessively warm weather that followed it, the attendance at the world's fair for the last seven days was more than 500,000 persons. Following are the recorded admissions for the week: Monday, 74,543; Tuesday, 87,476; Wednesday, 87,175; Thursday, 82,794; Friday, 76,859; Saturday, 91,522; total, 500,369.

KERN SEES PARKER; NOT FOR TAGGART

Indianaian Says Chairmanship Was Not Mentioned—Conference in New York Today.

DAVIS GOES TO GOTHAM

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

Esopus, N. Y., July 17.—Judge Parker's second Sunday since his nomination was spent quietly. He had conferences with John W. Kern of Indianapolis, who is his guest, and William F. Sheehan, and with Maurice Minton of New York, who attended the St. Louis convention, and is said to have come to Rosemount on a political mission. Mr. Sheehan visited Rosemount this afternoon for half an hour and later Judge Parker visited Mr. Sheehan's home.

The question of who is to be chairman of the national committee was not considered today. That question will be discussed at the conference of leaders which is to take place in New York tomorrow.

Mr. Kern this afternoon said that he came from Indianapolis on business in Albany, and it was at Senator David B. Hill's suggestion that he visited Judge Parker, whom he had known for nine years. He and the judge, he said, had talked a good deal of politics, but had not talked of the national committee chairmanship. He had not come here, he added, in the interests of National Committeeman Thomas Taggart of Indiana, nor to suggest to Judge Parker who should be national chairman.

Judge Parker attended church service at Kingston this morning, going to the mission church of the Holy Cross, in which his son-in-law, the Rev. Mr.

DEATH CALLS AT THE ALTAR

Father Kealy, Formerly of Pittsburgh, Carried Dying from Church.

HEAD OF PASSIONISTS

Voices His Own Warning in Sermon on Man's Last Stewardship.

SKETCH OF A USEFUL CAREER

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, July 17.

"Render an account of thy stewardship, for thou canst no longer be my steward."

Solemnly warning a great congregation, in the words of the gospel, to be ever ready to account for their earthly careers, the Very Rev. Stephen Kealy, head of the Passionist order in this country, was himself summoned to the bar of the Great Assize this morning. He was formerly the master novice at the Passionist monastery in Pittsburgh. Stricken with heart disease almost as he left the pulpit, he died, surrounded by the sorrowing priests of the community, a few minutes after, in an adjoining room in St. Michael's monastery in West Hoboken.

Father Kealy said the 8 o'clock mass in the church, at which there was the usual large congregation. After the gospel he went into the pulpit and preached on the subject set for the day, St. Luke's story of the unjust steward.

Preaches on Stewardship.

Those who heard him say he seemed to linger with special and impressive emphasis on the necessity of ever being prepared to render an immediate and exact account of one's stewardship. But none whose piety was stimulated by his words thought of course, for a moment, that it would be the preacher himself who, or all that large congregation, would be the first to receive the summons and thus supply a tragic ending to a distinguished sacerdotal career.

After his sermon Father Kealy returned to the altar to finish the mass. At the communion, which soon followed, he felt ill, and, communicating himself, he sent one of the acolytes into the vestry to summon Father Bertrand. The latter came at once and the provincial told him to give communion to the con-

RUSSIANS HOLD UP SHIPS; BRITISH MUCH IRRITATED

Passage of Dardanelles by Fleet Causes Dissatisfaction in London and Berlin—Tokyo Paper Says England Should Act.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, July 18.—A dispatch from Aden to the Daily Mail says that the captain of the British steamer Walpara reports that the Russian volunteer fleet steamer St. Petersburg signalled him to stop by firing across the bows of his vessel on July 15 while 20 miles off Jebel Zugur, in the Red sea.

The Russians examined the papers of the Walpara and declared that they would hold the ship as a prize.

The captain protested and was taken on board the St. Petersburg, where he gave the Russian officers a guarantee that there were neither arms nor ammunition on board the Walpara destined for Japan. The vessel was detained for four hours and was then allowed to proceed.

The captain confirms the report that the Peninsular & Oriental Company's steamer Malacca was seized in the Red sea July 16 by the St. Petersburg on the ground that she carried arms and munitions of war for the Japanese government.

The Standard's Tokyo correspondent, cabling under date of July 17, says the Jiji Shimpo, in an editorial, expresses the hope that Great British will see that Turkey lends Russia no assistance by allowing steamers of the volunteer fleet to pass the Dardanelles. The Jiji Shimpo declares that Great Britain is bound under the terms of the Anglo-Japanese alliance to prevent such assistance being given.

"Almost without exception the newspapers this morning in editorials or otherwise comment upon the Russian volunteer fleet passing the Dardanelles, and the government is urged to take action, especially for the protection of British commerce in the Red sea and Mediterranean waters. The Daily Telegraph contained an outspoken protest written with traces of government inspiration, which said:

"There is a limit to complaisance when neutral commerce under the British flag is interfered with in a way to which we have been for a century and a half unused."

Special dispatches from Berlin echo the feeling of irritation that exists in London.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 18.—A special dispatch from Liao-Yang says:

"A British gunboat appeared off Yin-Kow July 15. The commander wanted to enter the port to guard the interests of the British in view of the probability that the town may shortly be occupied by the Japanese. The commander of the Russian gunboat Siveuch hoisted a battle flag, went out and requested the British vessel to draw off, which it did. It is reported that the British gunboat returned later with two other vessels. All three put to sea that night."

TEDDY, JR., TEACHES IN SUNDAY SCHOOL

Draws Moral Lessons from Bible Stories for Benefit of Oyster Bay Youths.

BUTLER AT SAGAMORE HILL

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 17.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the 17-year-old son of the president, like the son of John D. Rockefeller, is now a Sunday school teacher and as such, he is fast becoming popular and attracting attention in Oyster Bay. Not content with the theory methods of the Sabbath school teacher, the young man has shown his spirit of independence by originating new features, which his own boyhood experiences tell him are sure to hold the minds of energetic boys. The school in which the president's son has begun his religious work is held in the chapel of the Christ Episcopal church. The class is composed of boys between the ages of 7 and 10 years. None of them are sons of rich men. They are the sons of men who earn their living in Oyster Bay. Two of the lads are the sons of care-takers at country homes near Sagamore Hill. Two are the sons of village shopkeepers and two others sons of employes of the Long Island railroad.

When Young Roosevelt drove into the village this morning, he was accompanied by his cousin, Miss Christian Roosevelt, who teaches a class of little girls in the church. They reached the chapel early and the members of both Mr. and Miss Roosevelt's classes were waiting outside the door. The girls and boys flocked about their respective teachers. The president's son extended both hands to his pupils and led them to their places in the corner of the room. When they had seated themselves in a semi-circle about him, he began the lesson, the subject of which was "The Arrest of St. Paul." The young teacher did not dwell long upon this story. It did not appeal to him as especially adapted to the boys of his class.

Among other things he has promised his pupils a series of stories of men of athletic or Bible times. He began last Sunday with the familiar story of David and Goliath. Today he told the story of David and Saul. Young Roosevelt is an excellent story teller. He impressed upon the minds of his pupils the strength of the character of David and drew a strong moral from the story. The president's son began his work as leader in the Sunday school just a week ago.

This was a particularly quiet day, even for a Sunday, at Sagamore Hill. The president received no visitors, although he and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained two of their house guests, including President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university. As usual the president and the members of his family attended the morning service at Christ Episcopal church.

FORCES ADVANCE ON PORT ARTHUR

will there be a collision. They declare that neither Russians nor Japanese armed bodies will be permitted to enter Chinese territory.

The Japanese are reported in force between Shanhwang and the Liao. The force apparently is meeting with little or no resistance. To the east there have been some engagements which have almost reached the dignity of battles. There is a general recession of the Russian lines on Hai-Cheng. They are followed closely by the Japanese, the two armies being constantly in touch and ready for action. The report that Japanese troops under convoy of a squadron of cruisers and destroyers has entered Yinkow, has not been verified.

A portion of Kuropatkin's army is reported marching down on Hai-Cheng from the northeast, to the north of the Sien mountains. Scouting parties have been seen as far south as Pa-Hui-Sha. The force threatening communications between Liao-Yang and Mukden appears to be inactive.

TIENTSIN, July 17.—The Russian agent here has officially stated that the Japanese have not occupied Niuchwang. The Russian officials are, he states, administering there as heretofore.

The Chinese minister at Tokyo has telegraphed the Wai-Wou-Pou (the Chinese minister of foreign affairs), that the Japanese government has presented a scheme for the administration of Manchuria, the principal clause of which is that the Japanese will govern the province with the number of Chinese troops now in the country.

Information has been received here that unless China suppresses the rebellion in the province of Kwang-Si, the French movement has threatened to land troops and put it down. The Chinese government is much perturbed in consequence.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 17.—Under date of July 15 Lieut.-Gen Sakharoff reports that the chasseurs are driving back the Japanese advance southwest of Siakhotan and east of Kanent. The Japanese, the general says, have reoccupied Keeshan. They are still fortifying the passes between Fenshui and Motien.

The Japanese near Liao-Yang have evacuated Sekeyan and Yanlikan. The country from Siaosra up to Sihu pass is free from Japanese, but the pass itself is occupied by a detachment of the Japanese advance guard.

JAPANESE DIET VISITS NATION'S NAVAL BASE

Foreign Attaches and Correspondents See Admiral Togo's Fleet at Anchor.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

FUSAN, Friday, July 15.—(Delayed in Transmission.)—The steamer Manchuria, while on a tour of inspection of the theater of war, with members of the Japanese diet, foreign attaches and press correspondents on board, reached the Japanese naval base July 14. At the time of the Manchuria's arrival a huge cloud of smoke hung over the land. Rounding the headland the panorama of Admiral Togo's fleet was presented at broad anchorage in the channel, with torpedo scouts outside. The torpedo gunboat Chihaya and the coast defense vessel Heh-Yan acted as sentries over the roadstead. Under the far north end of the island were five cruisers. In the center were all five battleships.

Admiral Togo's and Vice Admiral Dewa's flagships were on the left. The armored cruisers Nisshin and Kasaga and the protected cruisers Hashidate and Itsukushima were on the flank. The gray, powder-stained vessels floated tranquilly awaiting orders, and heavy columns of smoke issued from the forest of funnels belonging to hospital ships, transports, colliers and torpedo boats.

NO MORE RECORD RUNS TO ATLANTIC

New Jersey Constables Force Automobilists to Restrict Speed on Pike.

AUTOISTS ARE ANGRY MEN

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Press Building.
PHILADELPHIA, PA., June 17.

Automobilists who use the even stretches of the famous White Horse pike to smash records between Philadelphia and Atlantic City were dealt a staggering blow today which probably will put an end to their dangerous sport.

Heretofore, rich autoists of Philadelphia, New York and other cities have used the White Horse pike just about as they pleased, with only occasional and not very efficacious objection from the inhabitants of the towns and villages, whose lives and property their whizzing machines put in peril. Now, however, Prosecutor Lloyd of Camden county, at the command of the freeholders, who have jurisdiction over the White Horse pike about half way to Atlantic City, has adopted measures which it is believed will act as a damper on the reckless races.

The prosecutor went to work yesterday and during the day every automobilist who reached Atlantic City or who rolled back into Camden from the seashore was blue in the face with indignation. More than one termed the attempt at reformation an outrage. For not only once, but as often as 10 times had they been brought to halt and told that Camden county had a speed limit which must be observed strictly.

"You must not run faster than 20 miles an hour in the open country," was the information handed out to them by a force of about 50 constables stationed at various points along the pike, "and when you hear a crossroad you must slow down to 10 miles an hour. And anyone who approaches or passes through a town or any other settlement faster than a mile in seven minutes goes to the lock-up."

"Twenty miles in open country, 10 miles an hour near a crossroads, a mile in seven minutes through a town or hamlet, and on the White Horse pike!" After an automobilist uttered this in an angry voice he couldn't say another word for sheer anger. Some of those who were unfortunate enough to run into the new law began to hit up their machines after the first constable was out of sight, but after they had met the red flag two or three times they saw that it was slow going or nothing.

KERN SEES PARKER, NOT FOR TAGGART

Hall, is rector. He was accompanied by Mrs. Parker.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Henry G. Davis, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, arrived here at noon today and at 1 o'clock left for New York city. The only persons to meet him at the station were several relatives. It was stated that the report that he would stop at Laurel, Md., to see Senator Gorman, was erroneous. Mr. Davis is going straight through to New York.

DAVIS IN GOTHAM.

When Asked About Bryan He Talks of Less Communism.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Former Senator Henry G. Davis of West Virginia, the Democratic nominee for vice president of the United States, arrived in this city tonight and is staying at the Fifth Avenue hotel.

He asked in an interested way what effect Judge Parker's gold standard telegram had in this part of the east and how the work of the convention was generally regarded. When told that there were rumors in some sections that Bryan's followers were now coming forward and taking control of affairs he replied:

"That cannot be so. I do not believe it. There is less of the communistic and socialistic feeling in the country today than has existed in many years and there will be no quarrels in the Democratic party. I was on the sub-committee that made the St. Louis platform and had an opportunity to know something of the feeling. I sat between Mr. Hill and Mr. Bryan and I can assure you there is no truth in rumors of war in the party."

Mr. Davis spoke very highly of William Jennings Bryan, and characterized him as a "strong moral man and very good to his family."

RAILROADS KILL TWO.

Unknown Man Run Down While Trying to Board a Moving Freight Train.

While trying to board a freight train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Graytown yesterday morning an unknown man about 24 years old fell under the wheels and his legs were cut off. He was put on a train for the West Penn hospital, but died at Rankin station.

Guy Donatelli, aged 9, of 644 Pearl street, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday from injuries received Saturday night by being run over by a train on the Pennsylvania railroad at Ben Venue station.

STEAMER ST. LOUIS IS SAFE, THOUGH CRIPPLED

NEW YORK, July 17.—Delayed over 24 hours by an accident to her machinery, the steamer St. Louis, from Southampton and Cherbourg, arrived at quarantine tonight. Capt. Jamison said that the afternoon of July 15, while the ship was low pressure cylinders on the starboard engine were broken about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, July 12. There was little excitement on board among the passengers. The Etruria offered her assistance, being at the time within two miles of the disabled liner, but this was refused. Among the passengers on the St. Louis were Daniel Frohman and M. H. De Young.

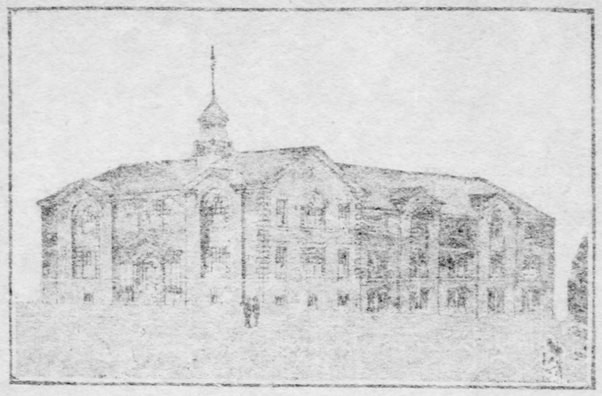
MAIMED FOR LIFE JUST AS HIS FAMILY CAME

IRWIN, PA., July 17.—After saving money with which to bring his wife and children from Scotland, James Orr, a miner, was fearfully injured by a fall of slate just before the arrival of his family. Orr will never be able to work again, and his family here is now destitute.

Long Trip in Automobile.

M. J. Mergarel and Joseph Spaigler of New York and H. W. Harrison of Rochester, N. Y., drove up in front of the Hotel Lincoln yesterday in an automobile. They were travel-stained and said they were on their way back from St. Louis, whither they went in an automobile from New York. Mr. Mergargel said they had traveled 2,080 miles, did lots of hill climbing and found the roads tolerably good. The trip from Buffalo to Buffalo. The party started for New York yesterday afternoon.

fine Gymnasium for the Boys and Girls of Westminster



If the students of Westminster college at New Wilmington, Pa., do not develop physically in proportion to their intellectual growth it will not be the fault of the trustees of that institution who are planning to erect a $40,000 gymnasium and Young Men's Christian association building this fall. Architects Struthers and Hannan of Pittsburgh have completed plans for the building which will be a two-story colonial brick and stone structure. The basement will contain a swimming pool, shower, needle and plunge baths, a wrestling place for training the college teams and 300 lockers for boys and 200 for girls.

On the first floor proper will be the offices of the physical culture director, a large parlor and a trophy room. The association rooms will be on the second floor and will seat 300 persons. A running track is also provided overlooking the gymnasium.

In the rear of the new building a power house will be built to supply the college building with light, heat and power. The gymnasium will face on the campus near the main college building and will be one of the most handsome buildings in the group.

them. Harry Lee dived after his brother and brought him to the surface. Sidney Lee was unconscious when he was brought to the surface, and it took 20 minutes to revive him.

The men on the shore took off their clothes to rescue the body of Cralle. Half an hour later the body was recovered. It was removed to the home of Harry Wheeler of Oakmont. Cralle's brother Harry and Wheeler are members of the firm of Wheeler & Cralle, lumber dealers of this city. Cralle was well known in Virginia, his family being one of the oldest in that state.

Max Sokach was bathing in the Monongahela river at the foot of River avenue, Braddock. He was unable to swim and was caught in the current and carried beyond his depth. Joseph Riblich, who was bathing with him, went to his rescue. After some effort he got his companion on his back and started to the shore with him. The weight of Sokach was too much for Riblich and he was compelled to leave Sokach in the water to save himself. Riblich was exhausted and about to sink when John Shilock pushed a plank out to him. Riblich caught the plank and succeeded in reaching shore.

A number of bathers were in the Monongahela river under the Twenty-second street bridge when an unknown man was drowned. He was about 35 years old and seemed to be an expert swimmer. He was out in the stream when he started for the shore. Within 20 feet of the bank he sank and did not come to the surface again. His body was found later by Charles Bradley. There was nothing on his clothes by which he could be identified.

An unknown boy, about 4 years old, wandered to the bank of the Monongahela river at McKeesport, where there were a number of boys bathing. The little fellow was unnoticed by the swimmers as he took off his clothing and waded into the water. In an instant the current carried him beyond his depth and he was drowned. His body was not recovered.

There were a number of heat prostrations and deaths among infants yesterday. Maggie Yates, aged 2, colored, of 4521 Jordan alley, became affected by the heat yesterday morning and died at noon. Joseph Lazarich, aged 15 months, of 2401 Mission street, South Side, was overcome by the heat Saturday night and died yesterday morning. James Bell, aged 7 months, of Negley Run, became unconscious from the heat early yesterday morning and died at noon.

YOUNG ITALIAN KILLED BY TWO UNKNOWN MEN

Murderers Empty Revolvers Into Victim's Prostrate Form Before They Flee.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELLEVERNON, PA., July 17.—Libario Viso, an Italian, 20 years old, was tonight killed by two unknown men who escaped. The assassins were seen running away from the scene of the crime by several women, but it was too dark to recognize them. No reason for the killing has been discovered.

Viso has at least five bullets in his body, any one of which would have caused a mortal wound. The shooting occurred about 9:30 near the factory of the American Window Glass Company. Workmen heard seven shots fired in rapid succession. Rushing out, Viso's body was found lying upon the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad tracks, face downward, his head across a rail. He was dead.

A few minutes later two men with hats pulled down over their faces were seen running up the track. The local officers were notified and started in pursuit, but abandoned the chase.

Viso had a loaded revolver in his pocket when found. One shot struck him in the back after he had fallen. The murderers had then evidently fired twice again, both bullets penetrating the brain. Italians here say they know nothing about Viso except that he was unmarried. He has been here a month, in his pockets was $11.

DEATH CALLS AT THE ALTAR

gregation, as he was not able to do it himself. Father Bertrand did so and then went to return the ciborium to the tabernacle, when he saw that Father Kealy was very ill.

"Take me away," he heard him whisper. "I cannot finish the mass, I am dying."

Carried into the Monastery.

The dying priest was at once helped into the sacristy and carried into an adjoining room in the monastery, where the members surrounded him and at his request recited the prayers for the dying. Father Philip administered the last rites to him and he died, conscious to the last, in a few minutes. Father Bertrand in the meantime had returned to the church, finished the prayers at the end of the mass and the congregation was dismissed without knowing anything of the tragic death that had followed the warning sermon. Physicians who were called pronounced the malady complete heart failure. He had not been ill at any time before.

Father Stephen was one of the most distinguished members of the Passionist order and had filled almost every important office in its membership. He was born in Queens county, Ireland, September 22, 1840, and came here when a boy. He entered the Passionist order in 1870 and was ordained a priest in 1877. He had since served as rector of the monastery at Dunkirk, N. Y., and at Cincinnati, O., where he built the imposing structure that crowns Mount Adams. He was master of novices in South America for several years and then held the same office in Pittsburgh.

Second Term as Provincial.

He was elected provincial head of the eight monasteries in the United States five years ago and was serving his second term at the time of his death. He is regarded as a great loss by his associates, as his record in the order proved him to be a profound theologian, a very successful director and a most tactful and capable executive.

He was a near relative of Father Maltek Cunlon, rector at St. Raphael's church, this city. His brother, with several members of his family, sailed for Ireland on Saturday, and he was at the steamer to see them sail. His funeral will be held on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when, after the mass of requiem, his body will be placed in the catacombs, under the church, attached to the monastery.

In his office of provincial the dead priest will be succeeded at once by Father Felix Ward, who was his deputy, or what is called in the order, first consultor. He will serve out the two years that remained of Father Stephen's term, and then a new election will be held.

DETECTIVE IS KILLED BY BROTHER OFFICER

Treachery of an Enraged Crowd Caused Policeman's Fatal Mistake.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—After shooting William Gorney and Alonzo Dorando of Manhattan during an attack made upon him tonight by a crowd of men at Schurer's picnic park at Gorona, L. I., Charles Conran, a detective on duty in citizens' clothes, sought refuge under a dancing platform, and was there shot and instantly killed by Policeman John T. Garrity.

Conran's fight with the crowd had caused a call to be sent in for police reserves, and when they arrived several in the crowd told the officers that the man who did the shooting was under the platform. Nothing was said about Conran being a detective, nor of his having shot in self-defense. Garrity crawled under the platform and ordered Conran to come out. Receiving no answer he fired and Conran was instantly killed.

Gorney and Dorando, who were shot by Conran during the attack, were from this city. Neither was dangerously wounded.

OLD PROBLEM OF THE ARMY MULE

It Confronts the Japanese Artillerymen in All Its Pertinacity.

JUST AS "CUSSED" ALSO

By OSCAR KING DAVIS.
(Copyright, 1904, by New York Herald Co.)

FENG-WANG-CHENG, June 8.—An amusing and interesting performance goes on every morning just in front of the camp of the correspondents. It begins about 8:30 o'clock. There is a rumble down the road and then the sound of voices raised in sharp command or expostulation. The slow complaint of the guns as they pound from side to side is punctuated by the shrill challenges of the mules to one another, sudden squeals and angry neighings, and then the high-pitched, staccato talk of the drivers—short words, explosively uttered with such concomitant emphasis and tone as would declare their profane character if the men were white instead of Japanese.

Little by little, with no cessation of noisy accompaniment, the first gun reaches the break immediately in front of our camp. Then the first guns start forward in the assault of a steep hill. Urging their beasts with heel and voice, and now and then with whip, the drivers take them straight at the first rise of ground. For 10 or 15 feet the grade is about 45 degrees.

After trying to go straight up for three or four mornings, it finally dawned upon the battery men that there was a better way. By going over the first break at an angle they could win to a comparatively level spot, from which they could get a second start for the long pull on up the hill. This, then, became the plan. But it involved making a sharp turn, with the teams just at the moment of starting for the long pull. That brought its new difficulties, although less than the old one.

The whole camp used to turn out to watch the show, but it has lost the charm of entertainment through often being repeated.

These artillerymen are persistent fellows. They might come out with picks and shovels and repair the road by half an hour's work so that its greatest difficulty would be avoided, but they choose to struggle on with the natural obstacles.

Sometimes it takes two hours to get the entire battery to the top of the hill. If the mules show anything it would be a different matter. But not only are the mules entirely ignorant of what they should do, but the drivers are quite unable to teach them. It would be worth something to see and hear a United States army mule driver take a team up that hill. But he would know how to make the air resound, pull together, and all in the same direction.

The Japanese mules usually tug in half a dozen different directions, whenever they happen, as rarely occurs, to be all pulling at the same time. Most often one team pulls, one stands still and the third backs back. United they do not always go out of the question. But the Japanese seem to enjoy it. They might easily pick up plenty of good Chinese ponies for their guns here in Manchuria—bigger, stronger, tougher, vastly more tractable and better in every way. But they content themselves with saying the Japanese mules very bad," and letting it go at that.

CARS MANGLE FOUR.

Cumberland's Sabbath Marred by Accidents, Two of Them Fatal.

CUMBERLAND, MD., July 17.—Four railroad accidents, two of which were fatal, marked Cumberland's Sunday. Early this morning the mangled body of an unknown man was found on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks at New Bung, near here. At 11 o'clock at Ualtha, whose name is not known, was found on the track near Dos Gully tunnel, with both legs cut off. He was placed on the train following the one from which he had fallen, but died before reaching here.

Frank Otto, 23 years old, of Cumberland, a Baltimore & Ohio brakeman, stood in the middle of the track while a switching engine bore down upon him, intending to step on the footboard. He missed his footing and the wheels cut off one foot and one finger. John Boyer, aged 60 years, of Johnstown, a veteran of the civil war, attempted to jump off the Johnstown excursion train here today at noon at the Baltimore street crossing and was thrown under the wheels. Both feet were crushed.

INDIAN JOE GOT AWAY.

The search kept up till late Saturday night for "Indian Joe," who entered the home of Mrs. Mary Hazlett of Glenfield early Saturday morning, bound her hand and foot and ransacked the house, was frightened away, and the man hunt was not resumed yesterday.

James Muse of Glenfield, who headed a posse of citizens, traced the fugitive as far as Economy, where he learned that the man had been in a saloon there about 20 minutes before. Here all trace was lost. It is supposed that "Indian Joe" boarded a passing freight. Descriptions of the man have been sent broadcast and it is believed he may yet be captured.

Mrs. Hazlett is recovering from the shock of her experience.

TRAIN JUMPS TRACK.

One Woman Killed, Three Injured—Another Accident is Fatal to Two.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 17.—A train on the Pennsylvania railroad, with 500 excursionists from Emporium to Portage Falls, jumped the track near Portageville and two cars, with the engines, went into the ditch. There were 10 cars in the train, but the rest kept the track. Mrs. Harriet Coe of Bradford received a fracture of the skull and will die. Three other women were injured.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bolles were struck by a passenger train on the Auburn branch of the New York Central road while driving across the track near Camanduguis. Mr. Bolles was instantly killed. Mrs. Bolles was taken to a hospital, where it was learned she had received fatal injuries.

Caused Riot in Street Car.

William Brown, a negro, was jostled in a Larimer avenue car on Saturday night, and when Center and Aiken avenues was reached he became indignant, drew a knife and attempted to cut one of the passengers. A riot ensued, and before Brown could use his knife he was unceremoniously bundled into the street and arrested as a suspicious person. Magistrate Nane fined him $10.

CHURCH OF CHRIST IS DEDICATED

Christian Scientists Hear Mrs. Eddy's Ward Read in New Structure at Concord.

SHE GREETS THE THOUSANDS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CONCORD, N. H., July 17.—Several thousand Christian Scientists assembled here today in the home city of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy to take part in the dedicatory exercises of the edifice of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

Four services, none of which Mrs. Eddy attended, were held to accommodate the visitors. The first service was held at 9 o'clock in the morning, a second at 10:30 o'clock, a third at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and a fourth at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The services consisted of addresses, singing of hymns and reading of the scriptures. Mrs. Eddy's dedicatory address was read by Mr. Bicknell Young of Chicago.

"I am asked 'Is there any hell?'" She says: "Yes, there is a hell for those who persist in breaking the Golden Rule or in disobeying the commandments of God. Physical science shows that the internal fires of our earth will eventually consume this planet.

Sin the Internal Fire.

"Christian Science shows that hidden, unpunished sin is this internal fire—even the fire of a guilty conscience waking to a true sense of itself and burning in torture until the sinner is consumed, his sins destroyed, which may take millions of cycles; but of the time no man knoweth. The advanced psychist knows that this situation is mental, not material, and that the situation is mental, not material, and that the Christian has no part in it. Only the makers of hell burn in their fire."

During the services this message from Mrs. Eddy was read: "Not having the time to receive all the beloved ones who have so kindly come to the dedication of this church, I must not allow myself the pleasure of receiving any of them. I always try to be just, if not generous, and I cannot show my love for them in social ways without neglecting the sacred demands on my time and attention for labors, which, I think, do them more good. Lovingly, M. B. G. EDDY."

Greeted by Thousands.

Thousands waited about the streets for hours to see Mrs. Eddy, and at 3:30 o'clock she drove through their lines and recognized those assembled by continued salutes and animated bows.

The new edifice is a beautiful structure and cost $200,000. The architecture of the church is the Italian or southern Gothic, to which the famous Concord granite is admirably adapted. Over the main entrance carved in Tennessee marble is the inscription: "A gift from Mary Baker G. Eddy, the discoverer and founder of Christian Science, to First Church of Christ, Scientist, Concord, New Hampshire."

A striking feature of the church exterior is the stone tower and lantern, which rise into the air 165 feet, being visible from all parts of the neighboring country and forming a handsome landmark. The structure has a seating capacity for 1,000 persons.

METCALF RULES TO ADMIT WOMAN WHO IS MORMON

Decides Against Barring People of the Faith Unless Practicing Polygamy.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, July 17.—According to a decision made yesterday by Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor, Mormon immigrants will be allowed to land in the United States in spite of the law of 1891, if they testify that they are not practicing polygamy. The case arose at the port of New York. The alien Mormon is an English woman of more than ordinary intelligence. The law of 1891 forbids the landing of polygamists, but does not go into a detailed description of what constitutes polygamy, and does not define the beliefs that shall act as a bar against coming into this country.

Although the law has been on the statute books for more than a dozen years, this is the first time the question of its enforcement has come up. The woman admitted that she was a Mormon, and declared that she believed in plural marriages, but she further declared that while she approves of the practice of polygamy, personally she would never become a plural wife. The evidence in the case was forwarded to Secretary Metcalf and he held that the law was intended to apply only to persons who practice polygamy, and not to those who merely believe in the doctrine.

LARKIN AGREES TO MAKE FIGHT

Prepares to Refuse to Sign Contract for Building of Filtration Plant.

REPEATS CHARGE OF FRAUD

The leaders of the Orphans party are taking a hand in the controversey over filtration, and they are strongly urging Controller Larkin to institute legal proceedings to prevent the issuance of $5,000,000 bonds voted by the people on last Tuesday. Controller Larkin has consented to make the fight, and within a couple of days he will seek legal advice as to the best method of defeating the plans of the administration. There are two ways for the controller to proceed—by refusing to sign the bonds after they are sold or by refusing to sign the contract for the filtration plant.

The controller believes the quickest way to bring the matter to an issue is by refusing to sign the contract, as it will be presented to him before the bonds are. He believes that if he would sign the contract he could not afterward consistently refuse to sign the bonds, the proceeds of which are to pay the contractor.

The contract will probably be presented to the controller at an early date, as the administration expects to put the contract ordinance in councils this week and to have it passed by the first of August. The bonds will probably not be sold before October. It is the purpose of the administration to call a special meeting of common council for this week. The call will be issued as soon as President Ward returns to the city.

Controller Larkin yesterday repeated the charge that there was fraud in the bond election in the downtown wards of the city. He declares the administration is not justified in issuing $5,000,000 bonds for filtration, because a majority of the voters of the city did not vote at the election last Tuesday.

"It always requires a quorum to do business in a legislative body, and how much more important is it that in a serious matter like this that a majority vote be had of the people who are affected," was the argument made by the controller.

"I have said that there was fraud in the lower wards of the city, and if I were interested, like the administration is, in the issuance of $5,000,000 of bonds, or any portion of that amount, especially when the affirmative vote was only 20 per cent of the voting population, I would ask the court to fully investigate the charges of fraud. A man who proposes to mortgage the homes of the poor people of this city and to load a burden on the people for 30 years should be sure that he is right."

Local Regiment of N. G. P. Receive Commendation from Inspecting Officers.

FRANKLIN, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—The detailed report of the inspecting officers of the Second brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, has been received at headquarters in this city. It shows the various organizations in the Second brigade to be in first-class condition. This brigade is the best organized in the state. Company M, Sixteenth regiment, of Grove City, whose general average was 90. Maj. Samuel W. Jeffries, the inspector, says that in general there is an improvement in the brigade. D, B and K of the Sixteenth regiment; E, C, and B of the Sixteenth regiment; F and K of the Eighteenth regiment, are commended.

Maj. Jeffries' only recommendation is "that hereafter no company be allowed credit for inspection unless five attendance unless they have at least 30 men present on the floor in uniform on the night of the inspection, furloughs and doctors' certificates to be credited as present and count in the average of attendance, as at present, but no 100 per cent given on the same."

Capt. Peter C. Harris, Ninth Infantry, who assisted in the inspection, favorably commented on the Fourteenth regiment. The chief criticism of the Eighteenth is that so many men were absent from the inspection, Capt. Harris says it is an efficient organization. His comments on Battery B are good and the officers are praised for what they have accomplished.

UNIFORMS ARE VERY POOR.

Miserable Equipment of the Russian Soldiers Is Largely Responsible for Defeats.

PARIS, July 17.—(Special Cable.)—The Russian Red Cross society has reported to the czar that the unpractical and miserable equipment of the Russian soldier is responsible for many of the defeats which the Russian forces have suffered.

"They have," the head of the society says, in the report, "an army clad in uniforms which look beautiful on the parade grounds, but which as soon as possible should be replaced in khaki uniforms which would make our men less conspicuous. The cloth used is of the poorest kind and tears as soon as touched. The shoes issued are unworthy of the name and many of our soldiers have to fight barefooted. Every soldier who has three or four rubles to spare is buying shoes from peddlers. It would be well to remember Napoleon's words that a poorly shod army is defeated.

"The czar has personally bought 50,000 pairs of shoes and shipped them to the front carefully guarded, that they shall not disappear on the way."

MISSION FUND OF $42,000 RAISED IN AFTERNOON

OFFICERS OF FOURTEENTH BANNER COMPANY

Lieut. Maurice E. Barr.

Capt. Franklin Blackstone.

Lieut. David C. Farrar.

Company D of the Fourteenth regiment has won the distinction of gaining third place among the infantry organizations of the National Guard of Pennsylvania for proficiency at the general inspection for the present year. Its officers rose from the ranks and its non-commissioned officers are especially well trained in the duties of the soldier, two facts which had much to do with the success of the company.

Company D was rated at 98.37 per cent, being preceded in the honor roll by Company M of the Sixteenth, which received 99, and by Company K of the First, and Company B of the Fifth, which divided second place, with a rating of 98.50. Last year Company D received the highest averages of any Pittsburgh company.

The officers of Company D are: Captain, Franklin Blackstone; first lieutenant, David C. Farrar; second lieutenant, Maurice E. Barr. First Sergeant Robert Brewer, who had much to do with the drilling of the command, was recently second lieutenant of Company E of the Fourteenth. August Bicheiman is acting first sergeant. The vacancy probably will be filled during the encampment at Gettysburg.

CARS COLLIDE, INJURING MANY

Rear-End Smash-Up on Forbes Street Hurls Passengers to the Street.

TWO WOMEN HURT SERIOUSLY

As the result of a rear-end collision between a Swissvale and Braddock and a Bloomfield car at Forbes and Moultrie streets shortly after 5 o'clock last evening, two passengers were seriously injured and many bruised and cut.

THE SERIOUSLY INJURED:

MRS. E. F. NORRIS, aged 60, of 4757 Ben Venue avenue; right leg crushed below the knee and bruised about the body.

MRS. HELEN SHERER, aged 28, of Braddock; bruised and cut about the head and back; suffering from shock.

Swissvale and Braddock car 1817 had come to a full stop at the corner of Moultrie street, with Bloomfield car 1733 closely following. The grade at this point is sharp and the motorman in an endeavor to put on the brakes found they would not operate. With increased momentum the Bloomfield car rushed on, with the motorman yelling to the Swissvale car motorman to go on, but he was not understood and, crashing together, the front board of the Bloomfield car and rear board of the Swissvale car were smashed to splinters.

Passengers were hurled to the street from the sharp contact and many were slightly bruised by being knocked against one another. Others were struck by the splinters of wood and front and rear rails of the cars. Both cars were unusually crowded, as were all the cars yesterday.

Mrs. Norris was riding on the front seat of the Bloomfield car and was pinned in the wreckage, being the most seriously injured of the passengers. She refused to go to a hospital or have medical attendance, and insisted on being carried to another car and taken home.

Mrs. Sherer had been seated on the rear seat of the Swissvale car, and also refused hospital treatment. Both cars were put out of service and taken to the repair shops.

THOUSANDS AT PARKS TO ESCAPE THE HEAT

Conservatory and Zoo Deserted—Reconstruction of Schenley Oval Is Postponed.

Thousands of people went to the parks yesterday, but not for sightseeing. They went there for relief from the severe heat. Instead of visiting the zoological garden in Highland park of the Phipps conservatory in Schenley, they hied to the trees, where hundreds of persons spent the entire day. The cars to Highland were crowded all day, but there were comparatively few visitors in the zoo. "They were out under the trees, sitting on the benches in shady nooks or in summer houses, where they could get the benefit of the breezes.

Supt. George W. Burke had arranged a special flower show at the conservatory in Schenley park, but there were very few cars to the park. "The people have all taken to the woods," said Supt. Burke. This place is too hot for them today." The heat drove many families to the parks yesterday where they spent the entire day, taking with them lunch, and not leaving until dark.

Park improvements are at a standstill. Supt. Burke said that no work would be done on the Schenley racing oval until fall. Councils appropriated $15,000 for the reconstruction of this race track, taking the money from the Point bridge fund. At the request of the Schenley Maffner Driving Club Director Bigelow has given orders that work on the oval be suspended until the races of the summer season, held every Wednesday afternoon, are over. The improvement is being made for the benefit of this club and if the track were broken up little races for the entire summer would be spoiled, as two months will be required to rebuild the track.

REOPENING SERVICE.

First United Presbyterian Brethren Church Refitted and Free from Debt.

The First United Brethren church, North Braddock, held interesting reopening services yesterday. The improvements cost about $500, and the congregation, which came out of debt less than a year ago, paid off the debt created by the improvements yesterday.

The Rev. C. J. Hinshaw of Wilmore, Pa., preached morning and evening, and administered the sacraments of baptism and communion. A large class of new members were admitted at the morning services. The Young People's society conducted a rally last evening and lending workers from various parts of the county were present. The improvements made addressed the church, include a new lighting system, new carpets, handsome chandeliers and complete decorations.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

SCORES RUSSIA, PRAISES JAPAN

Dr. F. J. Stanley, Formerly Professor of University of Tokyo, Preaches on War.

DESTINY OF PANAMA CANAL

The Rev. Dr. Frederick J. Stanley of New York city, formerly professor in the University of Tokyo, Japan, spoke last night in the East Liberty Presbyterian church on "God's Footprints in the Russo-Japanese War. It's Four Hundred Years' Causes and Probable Outlook." With regrets that he did not have three hours in which to go into the details of the strife as he knew them, Dr. Stanley said in part:

In 1854 the Egyptians were in front of Constantinople and the sultan asked assistance of Great Britain, who did not respond. Russia, who still felt the sting given her at the time when Washington was dying, she was in front of Constantinople with an army, and France, united with Great Britain, drove her off, responded to the opportunity and assisted the sultan. Then Russia formed a treaty with Turkey which was not disclosed to the outside world until a settlement of the Armenian troubles in 1894. When Lord Salisbury spoke for England, the Russian ambassador brought forth the treaty which had been kept secret for over 40 years and took command of the situation.

This, the making of secret treaties and holding them until advantageous times, is one of the causes of the present war. Nine years ago, after the Chinese-Japanese war, Japan required of China that she occupy Port Arthur until her indemnity was paid. The next day Russia entered a protest and produced another secret treaty made in 1881, wherein she held the right from China to construct a railway in Manchuria, terminating at Port Arthur, which was to be 1,200 miles long. This is another cause.

A Nation of Peace.

We, as a Christian nation, are a nation of peace and arbitration. We stand against war and the Hague tribunal. However, this is God's world and the position of war can be seen coming for four centuries to this strife.

Go back to 1472, when Constantine was killed. The then czar was married to Sofia, a niece of Constantine and the next in line to the throne. The Turks had come into possession and the czar asked for Constantinople in the name of his wife, but was told to take it as the Turks had taken it. He swore vengeance if it took centuries. Since then Constantinople has been the prime object of Russia. Then Russia was but six times the size of Pennsylvania. Today she possesses 9,000,000 square miles of territory and governs one-sixth of the earth. She outstrips in land acquisition any nation on earth. When she conquers new territory by might but not right, she drives her people upon the land to settle it. She has crushed, degraded and cursed many lands. Anglo-Saxon acquisition uplifts, in striking contrast. A little over a year Britain has arisen in the east, crying "This has gone far enough." It is God's spirit indowing into human affairs.

On May, 1895, when Russia protested Japan's rights in Manchuria, she added these words, "Any nation that remains in Port Arthur is a menace to the peace of the world and destroys the integrity of the Chinese empire." See how this will play part in the war.

The czar is at the mercy of advisors who change from time to time. Some years ago Viceroy Alexieff was one of these. He showed the czar how he might widen his domain by annexing Manchuria, and, being a man of ambition, asked that he be given the complete viceroyalty of the Far Eastern Russia. The czar would have recalled him ere this, but he dare not. That is why there is so much jealousy between Alexieff and Kuropatkin.

Earnest, Enterprising People.

The Japanese empire is earnest, active and enterprising. Fifteen years ago the emperor gave the people the right of voice in the government without being asked. It is a unit empire from emperor to the lowest coolie, and every man would die a thousand times for his country. The freedom of the press, freedom of worship and freedom of speech, in direct contrast to Russia. If I took a Bible to Russia tonight and attempted to preach the gospel I should be hurled into prison.

Turn to Japan. Freedom everywhere. In Russia 92 per cent cannot read or write. In Japan 94 per cent can read and write well. They have had compulsory education since 1871. One hundred per cent of the army can read and write.

What is the Russian army? What is the meaning of the term Cossacks? Cossack means bandits or outlaws—men the government could not conquer and put uniforms on them. They will not and cannot be disciplined.

I have received two letters from missionary women in Korea in answer to a query as to whether Russia or Japan is the favorite. In that, while they were amid tens of thousands of Japanese soldiers, they have yet to see a drunken or disorderly man. Even a lesson for our nation. Russia has one saloon for 100 saloons while the army was in the Philippines. There is the highest morality in the Japanese army of any on earth. It is a war of God against a coarse, immoral, selfish and unprincipled nation.

Russia wrote to Japan last October that she would evacuate Manchuria on the eighth of the month after making four different promises. She hasn't evacuated yet only from positions forced to.

You ask why God has not stepped in before. This is the important time. With the opening of the Panama canal the traffic of the Atlantic will turn to the Pacific, America will stand in the center of the world, and with the shelving of the Orient thrown open, Christianity must enter and prevail, and Russia, the domineering power, must now learn the lesson which has long been due her.

SCANDRETT ASKS FOR BOND ISSUE

Director of Allegheny Department of Public Safety Would Like Separate Building.

REASONS WHICH HE GIVES

If Director Scandrett has any influence Allegheny will not be long without a public safety department building. The director has grown tired of the unsanitary condition of the prison in city hall. The talk, lasting many years, of a new city hall has amounted to nothing, and the director has concluded that the only way to secure the proper conveniences for his department is to ask councils for a building for the public safety department.

Under the law permitting city councils to issue bonds up to 2 per cent of the value of the property in Allegheny, the city councils could erect a public safety department building, but Director Scandrett yesterday declared that he preferred to leave the decision of the question to the people.

"Perhaps the city councils could issue bonds for $200,000, enough to pay for a site and building for the public safety department," said the director, "but if I have my way the voters themselves will decide. Next fall I intend to go before councils and ask for a new public safety building, and I shall suggest that it be left to a vote of the people.

"I think I shall be able to convince the citizens of Allegheny that it would be to the benefit of the public to have a separate building for the public safety department. There is so little room in city hall that for some time we have had the bureau of health in a separate building across the street. For the department to be conducted properly we ought to have a separate building, especially as it seems that we cannot have a city hall large and commodious enough to shelter all the departments of the city."

Allegheny, although a city of the same class as Pittsburgh, has no place for reserve policemen to sleep. In all the modern station houses of Pittsburgh there are accommodations for reserves. On more than one occasion Director Scandrett has declined to allow prisoners to be locked up in the central police station in city hall, because of the unsanitary condition of the cell rooms. The state prison board has several times condemned the condition of the cell rooms, but nothing has been done toward making improvements.

Director Scandrett will enter upon his campaign for a public safety department building in the fall. Just now he thinks $200,000 will be sufficient to buy a site and erect a building. He will not ask councils to appropriate the money or issue bonds, but will request that an ordinance be adopted submitting to the people the question of issuing bonds.

Williams, the young man who fired three shots at his sister and her escort as the couple were walking along Butler street, near Fifty-fifth street, on Saturday night, was fined $25 and costs yesterday morning by Magistrate James F. Weather—Fair.
Yesterday's Temperature—Max. 90; Min. 68.

Monday, July 18, 1904.

Our second Remnant Day is announced for tomorrow, and details will be given this afternoon In The Gazette of tomorrow morning, however, as supplementary Remnant Day news, we will have a great lot of figures relating to REDUCED PRICES ON LACE CURTAINS, which should be read by every woman who is interested in the looks of her home. The reduced prices will be beyond any ever quoted for fine to finest Curtains.

Some of the Values in Today's Clearance

As we near the end of the month clearance values become more interesting—prices going downward each succeeding week, not only on our own surplus stocks, but on stocks that we have bought at marvelously low figures in order to help manufacturers along with their clearances. A case in point immediately follows, that of Women's Handkerchiefs for ½ to ¾ Under Usual Prices.

These are mill ends. That is to say, the accumulation of many different "runs," from a Belfast manufacturer, of Women's Finest Handkerchiefs. We took them from the Pittsburg Custom House Saturday, and the prices quoted are submitted as refreshingly small for daintiest handkerchiefs imaginable. Ready this morning in Handkerchief Department main floor, East.

Lot No. 1—Women's Sheer Unlaundered Handkerchiefs, prettily initialed, and all of them hand-embroidered. These are regular 18c goods of best linen, but today we say 3 for 25c, or singly 9c

Lot No. 2—Women's Plain Hemstitched Handkerchiefs of fine linen, and the linen very sheer. Ordinarily you would be glad to pay 18c for these handkerchiefs, but today they are 3 for 25c, or singly 9c

Lot No. 3—Women's Laundered Handkerchiefs, initialed, hand-embroidered and hemstitched. This is the most pronounced bargain of the series. Regularly these handkerchiefs retail for 35c, 50c and 75c; today they are 3 for 50c, or singly 18c

Bohemian and Art Glassware for Clearance Prices.

Today we put on sale a collection of fine glassware, specimens of high art, Flower Vases and Centerpieces, plain and iridescent colored glass in a variety of shapes and colors, all for half of the regular prices.

This class of goods as a rule is little affected by clearance events, which makes it all the more imperative that people who want to take advantage of the sale be here early in the day.

$1.00 Pieces will sell for 50c each.
$1.50 Pieces will sell for 75c each.
$2.00 Pieces will sell for $1.00 each.
$2.50 Pieces will sell for $1.25 each.
$3.00 Pieces will sell for $1.50 each.
$3.50 Pieces will sell for $1.75 each.
$4.00 Pieces will sell for $2.00 each.
$4.50 Pieces will sell for $2.25 each.
$5.00 Pieces will sell for $2.50 each.
$6.50 Pieces will sell for $3.25 each.
$8.50 Pieces will sell for $4.25 each.
$12.00 Pieces will sell for $6.00 each.
$15.00 Pieces will sell for $7.50 each.
$18.00 Pieces will sell for $9.00 each.

If you have a Go-Cart, but need a new Parasol, you can also get them today for clearance prices.

$1.50 Parasols, white or red only, today 90c each.

Any Fine Fan in Our Collection Today Half Price.

By way of explanation of the word fine, we would say that regularly these fans sell for from $7.00 each and up to $60.00. And these are very low for Paris fans. That should tell you a great deal. Gauze fans with sticks that are decorated and handsomely carved—of bone, amber, mother-of-pearl, some silver spangled. Exquisite things that add a touch of elegance to the gown. Some of them tiny, others of moderate size.

Make your selection and save half of the usual purchase price.

Silks for Half and Less Than Half.

We couldn't take more drastic measures to clear out an immense line of silks than to cut the prices in half, you will agree with us. Yet in some cases figures are below the half line.

PITTSBURGH MEN WILL MAKE GLASS

German Method Will Be Displaced at Monterey—Steel Order in Mexico.

CONTRACT SECURED IN CUBA

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square. NEW YORK, July 17.

Glass blowers from the Pittsburgh district are to displace the men now working in the big plant at Monterey, which is the chief center of the glassmaking business in Mexico, and is the Pittsburgh of the southern republic.

F. B. Karbe, the general superintendent of the works, has found the old German method of blowing to be defective and has requested the company to change to the Pittsburgh system, which has been decided upon. By the American process a crew of three men can turn out from 2,500 to 3,000 bottles a day, while by the German method only about 500 bottles can be finished by each of three men, which constitutes a day's work. In the German process one man dips the liquid from the furnace, a second blows it to its required size, and a third molds it into its desired shape. By the Pittsburgh system every man has part of the blowing to do, and the three men are changed every 20 minutes.

Despite the big import duty on iron and steel, which came into force last April, notwithstanding the fact that one of the best and most modern equipped steel plants in the world is now in active operation in Monterey under the management of a Pittsburgh steel expert, and installed largely with Pittsburgh machinery, the American Bridge Company, a branch of the United States Steel Corporation, has been awarded a contract for steel to be used in the construction of one of the largest sugar refineries in the southern republic, which is to be built in the vicinity of Cordoba, state of Vera Cruz. Foreign steel enters into Mexico—other than for railroad construction or under special concessions, when it is free—is subject to an infliction of about $20 gold per ton.

The United States Steel Corporation has secured a substantial contract for 56-pound rails for shipment to Cuba, where the material will be used in the construction of a railroad on one of the largest sugar plantations on the southern part of the island. The contract was placed by Horace P. Ruggles of 106 Wall street, who is also in the market for considerable sugar factory equipment, etc. He has placed an order with the Riter-Conley Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh for a big lot of steel tank work.

Charles Wise, the Pittsburgh authority on the manufacture of glass, is investigating deposits of sand in the vicinity of Dallas, Tex., with a view of erecting a large plant there and the initial capacity of the factory would be about two carloads a week.

MAN WHO DIDN'T DRINK IS AWARDED CONTRACT

While Other Bidders Are Lined Up Against the Bar, He Gets Business.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—There are four crestfallen contractors in Jersey City today. The board of education had advertised to open bids for $1,000,000 worth of work at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Five contractors were on hand to submit bids. While waiting, one of them suggested a drink and three of the others accepted the invitation. The party went across the street, not noticing that one of the "waiting" contractors had not accompanied them. After the man who proposed the drink had bought, everyone else considered it his duty to do so, and a good half hour was consumed.

Precisely at 4 o'clock the board assembled and clerk James J. Wiseman called for bids. There was only one bidder on the surface of the board. The representative of the M. T. Connolly Contracting Company, who didn't drink, handed in the only bid. The bids had been opened and read when the four fully-satisfied-to-their-inner-manhood returned and wanted to put in their bids.

"You are too late," decided the chairman, John H. Ward, "for bids were called for at the time advertised and only one masonry bid was received. We were forced to close the reception of bids. We cannot receive any now."

"Well, if we can't do anything else," remarked one of the disappointed ones, "we can have another drink."

The four contractors filed out and drowned their sorrow in the flowing bowl.

CLOUDBURST AND FLOODS DO DAMAGE IN CHILE

Seven People Perish in Valparaiso—Injury to Property is Great.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1904, By New York Herald Co.)

VALPARAISO, July 17.—The severe weather which has been prevailing here the last eight days culminated yesterday with a tremendous cloudburst, which caused all the culverts in the city to burst, flooding the whole lower district of the city. Seven persons were drowned inside their dwellings. The tramways were stopped and the streets were covered with a deep layer of soft mud.

Hundreds of commercial houses and private residences were inundated, causing great damage. Many poor families, who were left destitute scarcely had time to save their lives. Subscriptions are being raised to help the sufferers. The weather conditions are still menacing, though the barometer is going up.

Dispatches from the southern provinces report rivers overflowing and destroying railway bridges. Railroad lines are cut in several places. It is believed that more flood victims are hidden beneath the mud and wreckage. There have been no fatalities on board the vessels anchored at this port.

TOO MANY FAMILIES.

Husband and Wife Had Each Been Married Before and Had Children.

"Papa is trying to kill mamma," was the childish cry that startled Train Dispatcher Hook at Junction No. 1, Carnegie, yesterday afternoon.

The little one was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Griscoll, who live in the rear of 20 Kennedy street, Carnegie. She told a story of an attempt by her father to take his wife's life, and implored the dispatcher to telephone for a policeman. This the dispatcher did, and Chief of Police Foster, with two officers, responded. The officers found the doors of the Griscoll home locked, and when there was no response to their repeated knocks, they broke in the door, discovering Griscoll and his wife inside.

The woman bore no marks of violence, other than a slight cut on the face. She asked that her husband be placed under arrest. Griscoll was taken to the lockup on a charge of disorderly conduct. He will receive a hearing this morning before Justice McMillan.

Inquiry disclosed that both Griscoll and his wife had been married before and each has two children by the first marriage. When Mrs. Griscoll attempted to chastise her stepson yesterday afternoon the father interfered. Mrs. Griscoll, it is alleged, rushed out into the yard and secured an ax. It was while the husband was wrenching the ax from his wife's hands that the little daughter rushed to the dispatcher's office.

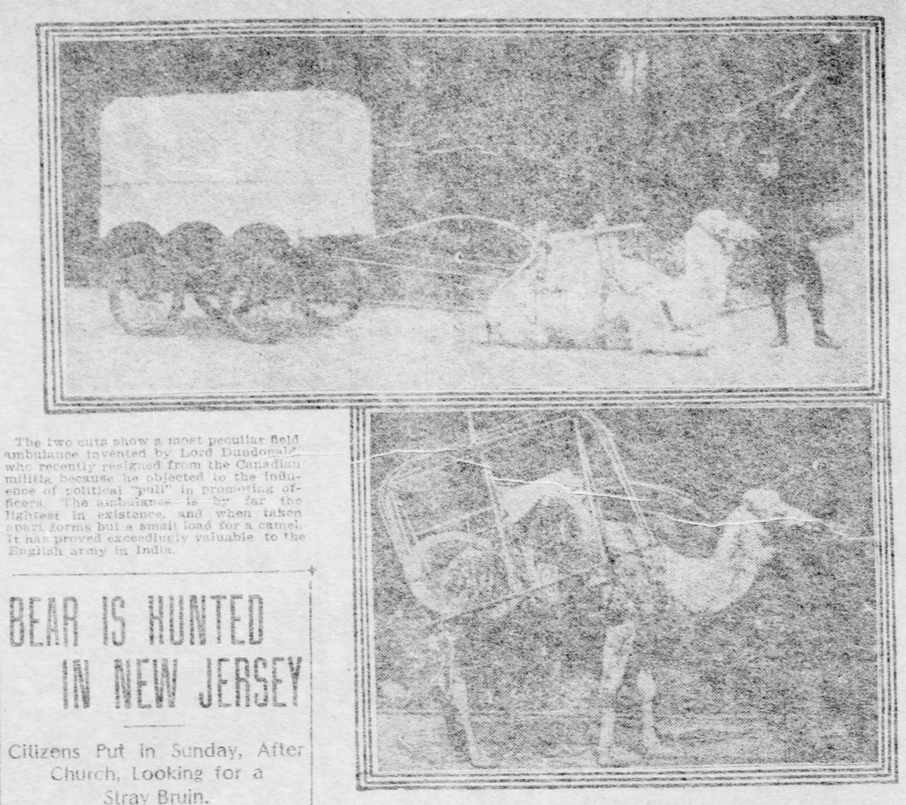
Field Ambulance Invented by Lord Dundonald.



The two cuts show a most peculiar field ambulance invented by Lord Dundonald, who recently resigned from the Canadian militia, because he objected to the influence of political "pull" in promoting officers. The ambulance is by far the lightest in existence, and when taken apart forms but a small load for a camel. It has proved exceedingly valuable to the English army in India.

BEAR IS HUNTED IN NEW JERSEY

Citizens Put in Sunday, After Church, Looking for a Stray Bruin.

WILL RESUME SEARCH TODAY

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Press Building. PHILADELPHIA, PA., July 17.

The inhabitants of Franklin, N. J., about 25 miles from this city, divided their time today between church services and an organized bear hunt. Bears don't usually roam so near Philadelphia, excepting those on the stock exchange. This fellow, however, turned up about two days ago and since has been on a wild rampage. Everybody in the township has heard about the bear, and because of the apprehension aroused mothers deny their children the privilege of remaining outside their yards after dark, and adults are afraid to go abroad even in daylight without a gun.

Incidentally the presence of a bear in the township has explained the death of live stock that had been heretofore attributed to dogs. On several occasions farmers have complained of losing pigs and chickens. Sounds of distress from the animals in the barnyards has aroused the owners from sleep more than one night recently. Investigation in each case indicated that some animal had broken into the inclosures and carried off prey. These depredations are now attributed to the big black bear, first seen by two men who were coon hunting last Friday night. Excitement had reached such a pitch that the hunting over the bear that just as soon as sunens were uttered in the churches the whole community shouldered rifles and shotguns and began the hunt. There were probably 500 in the various parties.

It was understood that the Reyes policy will be one of international development, building railroads, the exploitation of Colombia's mineral wealth, the advancement of agriculture and that he is disposed to regard the Panama matter as settled, it is this latter point on which Vilez bases his opposition and through which he hopes to wrest control of the government from Reyes. It is freely prophesied by those familiar with South American affairs that the first revolution in Colombia will be followed by the partition of the republic. Venezuela has been anxious for a long time to rectify her western and southwestern boundaries and Castro has been making his plans with this end in view, since the suppression of the last revolution in his country. There has been a strong sentiment in Cauca to cast her lot with Panama.

NOTABLE DINNER GIVEN FOR AMERICAN OFFICERS

Admiral De Jedina Presides—He and Captain Cowles Renew Old Friendship.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1904, By New York Herald Co.)

TRIESTE, July 17.—The dinner given to Admirals Barker and Jewell and the officers commanding the 10 vessels of the American fleet was a notable affair. Admiral De Jedina presided and there were also present the governor of the province, Count Goess, Maj.-Gen. Ziller, commanding the military department; Dr. Valdmarstrelli, the lord mayor, and the United States consul, Mr. Hossfield, together with the American officers, including Captains Rodgers, Cowles, Colby, Bradford, Cleaves and Southerland. After the customary toasts Admiral De Jedina made a cordial address of welcome, which elicited an appreciative reply from Admiral Barker.

Admiral De Jedina and Capt. W. S. Cowles of the Missouri were colleagues together in London several years ago when serving as naval attaches to their respective embassies, and the cordial friendship existing between them greatly helped to remove stiffness from the various functions which have taken place, and to establish the cordial relations which now exist between the visitors and their hosts.

KING TO SALVATIONISTS.

Edward Sends Reply to Message Received from the Army.

LONDON, July 17.—King Edward, in reply to a message from the staff council of the Salvation Army, expressing appreciation of his majesty's welcome to the international congress of the army and "gratitude to God for his majesty's efforts in the cause of International peace," sends his thanks through Lord Francis Knollys, his private secretary, who says the king "rejoices to think that his efforts to promote international peace and good will have not been entirely without effect," and that he "trusts that the good work the Salvation Army has already achieved by its faith and energy may be constantly increased."

BUY TROLLEY LINES FOR N. Y. CENTRAL FEEDERS

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The controlling interests in the Syracuse Rapid Transit and the Utica and Mohawk trolley lines have been sold to the Vanderbilts, and these roads will be used as feeders for the New York Central. The sale was made by John J. Stanley and Horace A. Andrews, representing a Cleveland syndicate. The Vanderbilts will have 51 per cent of the stock of the two roads, while the remainder, or a large portion thereof, will be retained by the Cleveland men.

American Lady Entertains King.

LONDON, July 17.—King Edward was a week-end guest of an American hostess, Mrs. George Cavendish Bentinck, who was Miss Livingston of New York, at High Cliffe Castle, Christ Church. He accompanied a house party which included several Americans. His majesty today boarded the yacht, on which he was entertained at luncheon by Sir Thomas Lipton.

Police Raided Two Houses.

The alleged disorderly house of Kathryn Houston, 2812 Second avenue, was raided last night and the proprietress and four visitors arrested. At the house of Thomas Varley, Beelen street, one visitor and Varley were arrested.

Shot Girl and Killed Himself.

TIFFIN, O., July 17.—Bert Blackwell, aged 20, shot Dollie Vesper, at a local resort today, and then shot himself, dying instantly. The girl's wounds are not necessarily fatal.

COLOMBIANS MAY REBEL ON REYES

News Indicates Another Revolution, When He Assumes Presidency Next Month.

VILEZ HIS CHIEF OPPONENT

By PAUL VILLIERS.
[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, July 17.—News received here indicates another revolution in Colombia when Gen. Rafael Reyes attempts to assume the presidency to which he has been elected in August.

Joaquin Vilez, governor of Bolivar, is bitterly opposed to Reyes, charging him with the responsibility for the loss of Panama. Vilez is the head of the reactionary party and is able to muster a strong force. Reyes is popular with the army, which regards him as the best general and ablest fighting man in the country, and has the backing of President Marroquin, whom he succeeds. He will be able to take the reins of government, but the probability is that he will have to fight to keep them. Not only is there much dissatisfaction with Bogota and the other states, but the great Pacific state of Cauca also is disaffected toward the Bogata government.

It was understood that the Reyes policy will be one of international development, building railroads, the exploitation of Colombia's mineral wealth, the advancement of agriculture and that he is disposed to regard the Panama matter as settled, it is this latter point on which Vilez bases his opposition and through which he hopes to wrest control of the government from Reyes. It is freely prophesied by those familiar with South American affairs that the first revolution in Colombia will be followed by the partition of the republic. Venezuela has been anxious for a long time to rectify her western and southwestern boundaries and Castro has been making his plans with this end in view, since the suppression of the last revolution in his country. There has been a strong sentiment in Cauca to cast her lot with Panama.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN CHASES TWO REGULARS

Men Were Holding Up His Barkeeper for Drinks in Jersey City.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Another case of wild west hold-up methods by United States soldiers, is reported from Jersey City. His victims this time were two privates of the Eighth United States Infantry. The men late last night entered a saloon in Montgomery street and flourishing their guns, commanded the man behind the bar to set up drinks for the house and to be quick about it. The barkeeper got busy immediately and in a little while drinks went along smoothly until the proprietor, who is a civil war veteran, came in.

Seeing how matters stood, he bounded upstairs, got down his old rifle and, coming up behind the intruders, pointed the weapon at the men, told them to get out quick. The men waited for no second invitation, but got out in lively fashion. Patrolman Higgins gave chase, but the men got away.

MEN MUST WALK OUT.

Glassworkers' Union Delivers Ultimatum to Employes of American Company.

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—(Special.)—The United Glass Workers of America have delivered an ultimatum to the men employed in the glass machine plants of the American Window Glass Company that they must stop work within seven days or they will be compelled to work in the hand glass factories when they start in September.

The organization has been bitterly opposed to the American Window Glass Company making glass during the summer, and it claims that this season is the first in 50 years that it has been done. The formal amalgamation of the United Glass Workers of America and the Denny faction will likely come tomorrow, and the new organization will be strengthened in its latest move to force the cutters and flatteners employed in the machine glass plants to stop work.

WON BRIDE BY WEARING JEWELS WHICH HE STOLE

BERLIN, July 17.—(Special Cable.)—A week ago a wealthy Berlin banker found that his safe had been broken open and all his personal jewelry stolen.

All attempts at tracing the missing articles proved futile. Yesterday, however, he received all the stolen goods by post. An anonymous letter was inclosed, in which the writer expressed his thanks for the loan of the jewels.

By wearing them, he said, he had successfully wooed an American heiress, who had hitherto rejected all his advances. She had now promised to marry him before the end of the month.

Esterhazy Will Not Testify.

PARIS, July 17.—(Special Cable.)—Ex-Major Esterhazy of unsavory reputation, who is now eking out a scant living in London as a drummer for canned goods, declares that he will never consent to appear as a witness should it be decided to revise the Dreyfus case which he says has already done enough harm to France as it is.

BUTTER BOUGHT FOR BLUEJACKETS

Takes Half Million Pounds Yearly to Satisfy Appetites of U. S. Sailors.

CARE REQUIRED IN PACKING

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—It will take just half a million pounds of butter to satisfy the appetites of Uncle Sam's bluejackets for the current fiscal year and agents of the paymaster's department start this week to make a preliminary inspection of the first batch of the 25,000 pounds, to be delivered on the contracts which have just been signed. The amount called for by the contracts, which is the largest deal in butter ever made, was divided equally between Swift & Co. of Chicago and James Rowland & Co. of New York and the price paid to each will be $75,000.

This half million pounds of butter will be consumed by the enlisted men of Uncle Sam's navy during the fiscal year that began on the 1st of July. It will be distributed through the office of the general storekeeper at the navy yard here, who will issue it to the different vessels as required. It is all furnished in three-pound cans prepared after a prescribed process. The cans must be made of the best charcoal tin, re-dipped before soldering. The milk from which the butter is made must all be sterilized. The butter will have to be packed at the place of manufacture. The cans will be sealed after a special process, making them absolutely air-tight, and will then be wrapped in paper and packed in heavy wooden cases. These will be filled with sawdust, closed and then bound with two iron bands.

The contractors are required to give a guarantee that it will remain in good condition for two years from the day of delivery at the navy yard. For such butter they will be paid at the rate of 27½ cents a pound, but before this is paid Uncle Sam will put his men to work to see if it comes up to specifications.

INVESTIGATION PROVED HIM WORSE THAN CHARGED

BERLIN, July 17.—(Special Cable.)—Lieutenant Bilse's now famous military novel has had very serious consequences for one of its heroes. Lieutenant Colonel Wittich was represented in the book as in the habit of obtaining money under false pretenses and of being hopelessly in debt. When testifying as a witness before the court-martial which sentenced Lieutenant Bilse he swore that the accusations against him were absolutely without any foundation. An investigation ordered by the kaiser, however, brought out that he was far worse than depicted in the book, and the lieutenant colonel is now in a cell in the military prison at Frankfort-on-the-Main awaiting a sentence for perjury.

ONLY AMERICAN GIRL COULD HAVE CONQUERED

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, July 17.—The marriage of the elderly Lord Bateman, gricided by years of active service in the field, and hitherto regarded as an unredeemable bachelor, to Mrs. H. C. Knapp, once upon a time the beautiful Marion Graham of San Francisco, promises to provide society with its chief subject of humorous comment.

For hitherto no bitterer or more acrid misogonist than this grim old soldier had ever existed. Probably no one is more amused than the king, who is one of Lord Bateman's oldest and warmest friends.

His genial majesty is said to have remarked that only an American girl could have accomplished the metempsychosis, but that, having seen Mrs. Knapp on the occasion of her presentation at court, he was by no means surprised that Bateman had finally surrendered to the enemy.

MANY CASUALTIES IN A NAVY YARD

Men, Eager to Roll Up Big Day's Work on Connecticut, Get Careless.

ILLNESS AT BROOKLYN PLANT

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—During the week just past, there were 73 cases of accident or sudden sickness at the Brooklyn navy yard, the largest number for any week in the history of the yard. On one day, Thursday, there were 17 cases and since January 1, the number of cases has been 1,058, as against 1,182 for the whole year of 1903. The work on the battleship Connecticut is largely responsible for this increase in the casualties. A large number of men are doing piece work on the new vessel and in their eagerness to roll up a big day's wages, they become careless and accidents result. All men injured at the yard are treated at the naval dispensary free of charge.

Nearly all the cases reported from the construction and repair department were men employed on the Connecticut. The caulkers and riveters seem to suffer most in proportion to the number of that class that are employed. Hardly a day passes that one of them does not receive a more or less serious injury. One day last week one of them had a remarkable escape from being seriously hurt. He was holding a redhot rivet against the side of a steel plate and dropped it between his trousers and his knee. It landed on the ground in half a second, having burned a streak along the trouser leg that looked as if it had been cut with a shears. The skin was only slightly burned in a few places. Several men have died as a result of injuries received on the Connecticut. Out of the 1,058 cases treated this year, 42 were serious, a number having resulted fatally.

QUIT BOARDWALK FOR THE OCEAN

Atlantic City Visitors Take to Surf—Permit Issued for Theater Alterations.

PITTSBURGHERS AT THE SHORE

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Young's Ocean Pier.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., July 17.

Though the summer crowd is here to stay, the fun has not broken loose as yet, but the crowd is looking for it and it will come in a few days, at a fast and furious pace, and the resort correspondent with his stock of new sea serpent stories and strange romances will be in his glory. The great attraction today seemed to be the beach, and the visitors deserted the boardwalk for the water. There was one novelty on the beach. It was a seal brown bath robe, worn by a very pretty girl, and was one of the new things in the surf last week. She was a trim young woman and the brown colored suit looked well, was well made and she had a good figure. Seal brown is so uncommon as to attract attention. Of all the hundreds in bathing in sight, and there were various colors, the brown one was alone, and besides, it made a good impression. It was something new, and still it was quiet in tone. The young lady was with another girl in a black suit. The contrast was great, but both of them were of a tone that caused admiration.

Permits have been issued for alterations to the Savoy theater facing the boardwalk, near Ocean avenue. The Savoy, according to the story which has been published, was leased to Klaw & Erlanger, but on investigation it was found that the theater was really leased to John Cahn. Cahn is hand-in-glove with Klaw & Erlanger, leading people in the theatrical syndicate. The building is to have a seating capacity of 1,200. Huntley, of the Huntley-Moore stock company, is associated with Cahn in the leasing of the theater. The lease runs for 10 years. It is said in the management that Maude Adams would open the house in October is looked upon as a dream, as it is not believed the house will be ready. The Steel pier is still considered as a place for a theater and John Young's name is ready to give us his idea, while the Academy of Music lot is vacant and Frallinger has hopes of some day having it covered with a fine building, in which a theater will be located. The syndicate of theatrical managers has given Atlantic City lots of consideration in their plans and eventually they mean to have a building here, in which they may use some of their big attractions to keep the money flowing into their purses.

Attorney Jere Carney and Mrs. Carney are at the shore for a week's rest. Mr. Carney will be compelled to return to Pittsburgh at the end of the week to take care of some cases in the criminal court in which he is counsel. He will return, however, for the rest of the month.

Geo. E. D. Proud of 821 Dudley street, one of the umpires of the Tri-State base ball league, is registered at the Biscayne.

George Elbourne and wife of Allegheny are rollers at The Gazette bicycle Yonker's pier today.

J. G. Steinmark and Eugene Ballert of Allegheny are at the Greater Pittsburgh, in Tennessee avenue.

Among the Pittsburghers seen on the boardwalk today were: Mrs. Osbourne and her daughter, Mildred; Daniel Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Miller, Mayor Hays, ex-Mayor Andrew Fulton and Mrs. Fulton, Miss Annie Dollins and Mrs. Dollins and J. T. Haviland.

William Justice and William Sperber, Jr., registered at the Hotel Rollins this morning.

GEARY HOLDS A RECEPTION.

Pickering's Advertising Manager Entertains His Friends at Thalia Villa.

James Geary, advertising manager for Pickering, entertained a hundred or so of his friends at his residence, Thalia villa, near West View, yesterday. The occasion was presumably to celebrate Mr. Geary's birthday anniversary. Some doubt was thrown upon this announcement, as the reception, although held annually, is a moveable feast. Another argument of the dissenters was that Mr. Geary and many of his friends declare that is not really his birthday, and therefore has no need for birthday gifts.

The celebration, no matter what it celebrated, began in the morning and lasted until the shades of evening fell. The grounds of the villa were shaded by handsome trees and were brilliant by magnificent parterres of flowers.

Lunch and dinner were the two main events of the day and were enlivened with impromptu oratory by the host and many of his guests. As is usual at Thalia villa a number of clever surprises were sprung upon the visitors.

MORE AMERICANS JOIN THE NAVY

Increasing Percentage of Natives Noted Among the Enlisted Men.

LARGER FORCE MAY BE ASKED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU.
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 17.

In gathering statistics for the annual report of the secretary of the navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, officials in the department have been surprised to note the rapid growth in the number of enlisted men in the navy in the last decade and the increase in the percentage of Americans among the sailors.

Despite the fact that there has been an increase in the limit of enlisted men nearly every year since the Spanish war, it appears likely that the department will ask congress to set the figure ahead again this year. Ten years ago a little more than 7,000 enlisted men were reported and next year congress will probably be asked to appropriate pay for at least 31,000. In 1890 only a trifle more than 50 per cent of the sailors in the American navy were citizens; last year 90.4 per cent were Americans, and this year's report will show the percentage to have increased to about 95.

"Most of our sailors are coming from the inland states," said an official today. "We are getting the best men of the navy from the farms of Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas. We don't need to take foreigners, as we did 10 years ago, because we had no men trained for the sea in our own land."

In the secretary's report of 1890 a recommendation was made that it be made easier for men to become citizens, in that year a gunner in the navy was refused citizenship, although he had served in the navy seven years and successfully passed the gunnery schools at Newport and Washington. This suggestion was followed, and the increase of American citizenship among the sailors is a result.

JUDGE IS KIDNAPED AND HELD FOR RANSOM

So Declares Friend Concerning Disappearance of Dennis D. McKoon.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Judge Dennis Daniel McKoon, a New York lawyer, has disappeared and the police have been notified by T. A. Darby, a friend and business associate, that he was kidnaped in lower Broadway shortly before noon on Friday last and is now being held for ransom.

Letters have been received from Judge McKoon, Mr. Darby says, asking that $5,000 demanded for his release, be paid. According to these letters Judge McKoon, who is 76 years old, met three men who had arranged a business appointment with him for Friday last. They took them to a house, the location of which was unknown to him, where he is kept a prisoner. The letters, he wrote, he would throw out of a window to a boy who was passing.

When asked if Judge McKoon had ever disappeared in this way before, Mr. Darby said that he had not. Capt. Langan of the detective bureau, however, said tonight that Judge McKoon had several times before been reported to police headquarters as missing, and that each time he had subsequently turned up all right.

At Oakwood the concerts were given by the city band of Huntingdon, Pa., directed by Prof. P. Rosini. Miss Lucy Lauffer, soprano, and the H. J. Lindsay quartet sang with the band as extra concert features.

An immense crowd was at Southern park both afternoon and evening, and before Wallace Edwards, the 10-year-old boy exhorter, spoke during the intermissions of the two concerts given by the Third Regiment band.

After the hearings yesterday morning the three prisoners were placed in the same cell. ITS CORNER STONE HOLDS STORY OF LEGAL FIGHT

First Methodist Episcopal Society of Beaver Begins Its $50,000 Home.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, PA., July 17.—With impressive ceremonies the cornerstone of the handsome $50,000 First Methodist Episcopal church, to be built at Elk and Turnpike streets, was laid at 7 o'clock this evening. The stone was laid by the Rev. Appleton Bash, pastor of the church, assisted by Capt. John F. Dravo, president of the board of trustees. The principal address was delivered by the Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate. Other speakers were the Rev. W. H. Fields, pastor of the Christian church of Beaver, and the Rev. Dr. J. S. Ramsay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

In the cornerstone were deposited a roster of the church, a history of the church and Sunday school, copies of daily newspapers, and a copy of all the legal proceedings relative to the attempt to enjoin the congregation from rebuilding on the site of the old church. The church won its fight in the injunction suit, but as popular opinion was against the project of rebuilding on the old site, the present site at Elk and Turnpike streets was purchased.

The church property adjoins that of the Beaver college building. Besides the congregational singing at the services tonight there were solos by Miss Marjory Wickham of Beaver and Miss Mabel Bridge of New Brighton. The cornerstone bears the dates on which the congregation has erected buildings since its organization—1832, 1848, 1878 and 1904.

BLOODY RIOT IN PACKERS' STRIKE

nue, bruised and cut; incarcerated at Deering street jail after wounds were dressed at county jail hospital.

POLICEMAN CHARLES SWEENEY, third precinct, head and back; bruised by missiles.

After finishing their day's work at Schwarzschild & Sulzberger's plant, the four colored strike breakers on their way home had to pass the ball grounds. Fully 1,000 persons were watching the game, most all of whom were friends of the strikers. As the four workmen approached the place some one yelled "scab," and instantly a rush was made for the negroes. Two of the negroes had each a revolver and a knife, and as the mob started for them they drew their weapons. Before they could use them, however, they were knocked to the ground by a dozen white men.

Negroes Fight Desperately.

One of the negroes, named Baker, scrambled to his feet and began slashing right and left. Before the knife could be taken from him he stabbed James Kiely near the heart, perhaps fatally. Another of the negroes fired into the crowd, two of the bullets hitting William Durand, one of the attacking party. This opposition of the negroes set the crowd in a frenzy, and had not the police made a quick response to a riot call, some of the strike breakers would undoubtedly have been killed. Several of the rioters were placed under arrest, as were also Wood and Baker.

There was little change in the situation of the meat packers' strike here today. With Michael Donnelly, the strike leader, in St. Louis looking after that end of the difficulty, there was no effort here today to renew the peace negotiations which lasted through three days last week, and were terminated last night without result. The packers say they will not recede from the position they assumed in last week's conference, and that the strikers will have to conform to the employers' ultimatum before any further peace plans looking to a settlement by arbitration will be successful.

The Point at Issue.

The strikers declare that, as they conceded every point possible in last week's negotiations, there is little likelihood that any further conferences for the present, at least, would amount to much toward a satisfactory settlement of the strike.

The sticking point to the whole question of arbitration is the reinstatement of the strikers. Mr. Donnelly, at yesterday's conference with the packers, waived every other demand he had made and agreed to order the men back to work, leaving the adjustment of all differences to arbitration, if the employers would take back all the strikers in a body. This the packers refused to do, maintaining that they had hired many new workmen since the strike whom they could not discharge. They promised, however, to take back the old employes as rapidly as possible, and in the order which their applications were filed. The union officials declare that they will never accept this proposition, as they say it would mean the disruption of the union inside of three months.

To complicate the controversy still more the allied craft at the stock yards, numbering 14,000 workmen, have become restless and are anxious to join the men already out in a sympathetic strike. Whether these men will go on strike will be decided tomorrow, when Mr. Donnelly returns from St. Louis. These unions, representing 20 of the mechanical trades in the packing plants, have decided to quit work if Mr. Donnelly says so.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—For the first time in years the West Philadelphia abbatoir was in operation today because of the threatened scarcity of meat due to the Chicago strike. During the day 500 head of cattle were slaughtered by independent dealers of this city. The Philadelphia houses of the western packing concerns have only a small supply of meat on hand, and the independent butchers of the city are striving to take up whatever business the western houses are unable to handle. The independents declare they can take care of the entire city. There is plenty of live stock in sight, but prices have been advanced about two cents.

Recruiting offices were open here today for the purpose of filling the places of the strikers in the west. It is claimed that at least 40 men have been engaged during last week and sent west.

BOSTON, July 17.—By permission of the police commission, the Brighton abbattoir was operated today in preparation for tomorrow's demand for meat. Friday night 83 cars of live stock were received at the stock yards, and since then a double force of butchers has worked day and night. It is believed that the local demand can be met so long as stock is received here on the hoof. Most of the meat dressed in Brighton will go to consumers in this city and vicinity.

LYNCHERS WOULD HAVE HANGED WRONG MAN

While Clamoring for Death of Suspect Real Criminal Is Found.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAVANA, July 17.—A Jamaican negro known by the sobriquet "Americano," who was supposed to have murdered a 9-year-old Spanish girl, had a narrow escape from lynching here today. When the police went to the Jamaican's house he fled and the crowd which had assembled, taking this for an admission of guilt, pursued him. The police, however, captured the negro and took him to the office of a local judge.

Meanwhile a Cuban negro, who later was identified as the real culprit, was captured outside the city by a policeman, who brought him through little frequented roads to the office of the local judge, in front of which a great crowd was clamoring for the lynching of the Jamaican, who was thought at the time to be an American. The two negroes were rushed across the city in a police wagon to the Audiencia court building, where the Cuban was identified as the perpetrator of the crime, one of the most atrocious ever known in Cuba. The Cuban was taken to prison. The Jamaican will be released.

NEITHER HOPE NOR HEART FOR AN HONEST MAN

So Beaver County's Leading Democratic Organ Declares of Parker Campaign.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BEAVER, PA., July 17.—The Commoner, Beaver county's only radical Democratic newspaper, bolts the ticket in an editorial published yesterday. The editor, Charles R. Eckert, attended the St. Louis convention. The editorial says in part:

"The Democratic party, for the present at least, has also passed into the hands of the plutocrats. The reorganizers, under the management of the wily, skilful and unscrupulous D. B. Hill, controlled the convention. They ran things to suit their own sweet will, save on the matter of the platform. The St. Louis convention consisted of a band of office mongers, and its moving spirit emanated from the corporate and predatory influences of Wall street. In view of this fact, would it not be a violent presumption to believe that such a little matter as a platform would stand between Judge Parker as president and his creators, if the occasion demanded that it be swept aside?

"There is no need to be deceived. Judge Parker, no matter what his personal virtues may be, is the creature of the Wall street influences, and it can be depended upon that, in the event of his election, platform, constitution and laws will not be suffered to stand in the way of the personal and financial interests of his campaign coachers and their friends. To such a campaign there is neither hope nor heart for an honest man."

CANKER WORM'S HAVOC.

It Destroys Great Area of Foliage on Bald Eagle Mountain.

HARRISBURG, July 17.—(Special.)—The canker worm has wrought great havoc in the oak and other timber on the south side of the Bald Eagle mountain on the ridge just above Warrior's Mark. The worm began the ravages three weeks ago and immediate methods were taken by the state authorities to check the outbreak before the pests reached the Tussey mountain forest reserve.

The work of the canker worm covers fully three square miles in which the oak, chestnut and maple leaves have been entirely stripped and this area has the appearance of having been burned by a recent fire, and can be seen for five miles. Prof. H. A. Surface, state economic zoologist, and Irvin C. Williams, deputy forestry commissioner, who returned today from an investigation of the outbreak, report that the pests have ceased feeding and gone into the ground to become mature or winged insects. Dr. Surface says that while the vitality this year the great danger is in the reappearance of the pests next year.

CORNER STONE IS LAID FOR $20,000 S. A. HALL

UNIONTOWN, PA., July 17.—(Special.)—The corner stone of the new $20,000 Salvation Army building in Church street, was laid today with appropriate ceremonies before hundreds of spectators. COMPARES KRUGER AND FANATICISM

The Rev. E. M. Wood Admires His Patriotism, but Scores Religious Efforts.

LIKENS HIM TO THE CRUSADERS

"Paul Kruger, or Religious Fanaticism," was the subject of the sermon delivered in the Fifth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning by the Rev. E. M. Wood. Lauding his patriotism, but decrying his alleged religious insanenitty, the pastor said, in part:

The recent death of Paul Kruger, the Boer patriot and warrior, is an event suggestive of various religious and political reflection. During his long and finally futile struggle for victory and independence it will be recalled that he had many sympathizers, aiders and abettors in the United States. While conceding him unquestioned sincerity, patriotic courage and almost unbounded self-sacrifice, yet he must be classed with a long list of heroic patriots who have gone down before the conquering advance of the mightier nations. And in the right-ousness of such movements this opens up a great political, commercial and providential question altogether too comprehensive for our present purpose. We wish, at present, to limit our vision to the religious aspects of his life and work. We do not mean it as severe as it sounds when we class him as a religious fanatic, but no words seem to so aptly express our opinion. In some respects he would not be out of harmony with Walter, the penniless, or Peter, the hermit, or Godfrey of Bouillon. What this Paul was to the Boers this Peter was to the ignorant Christian masses of European Popedom. With his head turned on fire, he went from province to province riding on a mule, bare headed and barefooted, holding aloft a crucifix, this diminutive warrior monk uttering his thrilling war cry, "God wills it!" Europe in the 11—13th centuries caught this patriotic frenzy to such a degree, the like of which Europe has never seen. In those eight crusades it is estimated over 2,000,000 perished.

What excited our pity most was the children's crusade of 1212. When an army of unarmed French children, 30,000, led by a boy named Stephen, and two armies of 20,000 each from Germany, led by a boy named Nicholas, believed that the Mediterranean would open a path for them, as it did for the Israelites and infidels by miracles in Palestine. Most of them perished on the march or were drowned in the sea, or were sold into slavery.

Last year England, France, Germany and Italy speak to the deadly of religious superstition so long as these nations furnished the $2,000,000 of superstitious crusaders who perished in that unreasonable effort. Indeed, in all ages religious enthusiasm has been most abounding in war times. Let us not speak lightly of Constantine or Peter the hermit, or Pope Urban II, or Godfrey of Bouillon. Russian priests on the front battle line hold aloft the crucifix to inspire the patriotism and courage of the soldiers.

Think of the boldness of that relic of barbarism—which claims to have received commands direct from heaven and which assumes to be superior to all Christian laws, the Bible and all civil compacts and flings defiance in the face of the congress, the courts and the forces of regeneration—called spiritualism which claims to be a later and a more direct revelation from heaven, and which boldly insults the sacred bonds of home and society.

And once more think of a man who will openly assume the name and fame of one of the most sacred prophets of God, Elijah, and declare that he has a direct heavenly mission to destroy Christian churches and Christian civil governments of the world and enrich himself by impoverishing the multitudes. It is an astounding mercy that civil government will permit a man thus to feast on the credulity of the people. It is marvelous.

Fanaticism is true religion caricatured. Fanaticism is the false fire of an over-heated brain; it is the delirium resulting from an abnormal religious temperature. It would be an interesting task to study superstition and fanaticism are disappearing. Ghosts are not as plenty as in years ago. A fanatic, once possessed, hugs his superstition to the last. Thomas Moore says:

"For faith, to the faith, once wedded fast
To some dear falsehood, hugs it to the last."

Bishop Oldham Visits Former Flock.

The Rev. William F. Oldham, D. D., S. T. D., member of the Methodist Episcopal board of bishops and formerly pastor of the Butler Street Methodist Episcopal church, preached to his old congregation last evening. He spoke in the Emory Methodist Episcopal church in the morning. Bishop Oldham has had charge of the missionary field in Southern Asia for the past nine years and has 17,000,000 people in his diocese, a small proportion of whom are Christians. He spoke interestingly on the conditions and needs of the work in his field.

ARRIVED AT SEASHORE WITHOUT BATHING SUIT

Pittsburgher Picks Up Wrong Suit Case in Hurrying for the Train.

The styles of suit cases have their seasons as well as wearing apparel. Every year some improvement is made with a view to strengthening their durability and lightening their weight. Most of the suit cases this season are made of canvas glued on veneering wood. So many are made the same that hundreds of these kind can be seen at any of the railroad stations in a day.

This fact caused two passengers on the Pennsylvania railroad considerable annoyance. One was bound for Mt. Clemens, Mich., and the other for Atlantic City. It happened in this way:

Both arrived at the station about the same time last Thursday morning. In their hurry to purchase their tickets they both placed their canvas-covered suit cases on one of the benches. The passenger to Atlantic City secured his ticket first and left the ticket window as the caller announced his train. In his excitement he picked up the wrong case and started for the train. Both being new, the Atlantic City passenger did not know his mistake until he reached his room in the hotel at the seashore.

The Mt. Clemens passenger took the case left, thinking it was his. He arrived at his destination before he had need of taking anything out of the case. When he opened it he found a bathing suit, a baseball suit, and a box of cigars neatly wrapped in tin foil. In the suit case taken to Atlantic City was nothing but a white shirt and a comb and brush. Both cases were identical and for a while it was impossible to discover how the mistake was made. Upon examination the names of the right owners were inscribed in the check card, and then telegrams were interchanged between them. They are both to meet in the store in which they purchased the cases next Saturday.

Only Downtown Parade.

Gentry Brothers' trained animal shows, billed for a week's engagement at Sunnyside park, opening with a matinee today, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon from Cleveland. The ponies, the monkeys and the baby elephants were all hungry when they arrived, and the attendants of the show proceeded at once to give the 400 performers their Sunday dinner.

Preparations were begun last night for the street parade this morning. The parade will leave the show grounds at 9 o'clock this morning and will make the downtown district. While daily parades will be given during the engagement, only one procession will be down town. The route will be as follows: Down Millvale to Center, to Craig, to Fifth avenue, to Liberty and down Tenth to Penn avenue, then to Main and back via Liberty

REGENERATION THE TOPIC OF PASTOR RUSSELL'S SERMON

Explains the Meaning of Being Born Again as it Is in Scripture.

CHANGES IN BIBLE HOUSE

The crowded condition of Bible House chapel yesterday made it extremely warm notwithstanding the good ventilation. There is some talk of other arrangements for those Sundays on which Pastor Russell is at home. Should these be effected, notice will be given in next Saturday's church notice column. The speaker said:

Read for our text today the words of our Master, "Marvel not that I said unto thee, ye must be born again." (John iii:7.) Our Lord addressed these words to Nicodemus, a ruler of Israel, who was above the average in piety, and was evidently greatly impressed with what he had heard respecting the Lord's teachings. He desired a personal interview, but being prominent he came at night, that the common people might not be encouraged thereby and that the ecclesiastical rulers might not be offended. Similarly there are people today hindered, as was Nicodemus, by their station, education, reputation, etc., from taking a stand for the truth. Their riches and reputation are changes to them. How hardly shall they that gave riches and who love the honor of men be able to adjust themselves to the conditions imposed by the Lord's dealings in this present time! Their worldly wisdom and prudence are their stumbling blocks.

It is not our thought, however, to specially discuss Nicodemus. We want to understand our Lord's meaning of our text. It must be as true today as it was at the time of the utterance, and you and I and all of the Lord's people, and all who desire to become the Lord's people, are as vitally interested in the Master's terms as Nicodemus could possibly be.

Years ago our Methodist friends had almost a monopoly on this term "born again," the expression being considerably avoided by Christians of other creeds. However, all the creeds of Christendom acknowledge the necessity for regeneration by the Holy Spirit, and this is the same thought that is conveyed by the words "born again."

But while the necessity for regeneration is thus acknowledged, it is one which receives little consideration from the Lord's people. Why has it dropped out of sight?

Regeneration is Ignored.

The reason is that Christian people have been doing more thinking of late than they did formerly—they have been using their reason more. Many of their old ideas which they once was even though it be less scriptural. They reason that if only those who are born again are to secure eternal life—if only those regenerated by the Holy Spirit and who bring forth fruits meet for the Spirit, are to be saved from an eternity of torture—then will not only the entire heathen world but almost the entire bulk of Christendom be lost, eternally lost. Their love for their neighbors and friends, and general sympathy for the heathen and for all mankind, backed by a certain amount of timidity on their own account, lead them to prefer not to believe this doctrine, not to believe the Master's words. "We must be born again." The tendency is to believe that all the glorified church of which Christ is the Head, the kingdom of God's dear Son, Who is to bless the whole world with knowledge and salvation and restrain Satan and every evil influence.

Whoever will study his Bible from this standpoint will gain the light necessary to a full appreciation of the Master's words. Those who do this will see clearly that the special class which the Lord is selecting from amongst the world during this gospel age must all be born again in order to be partakers of the kingdom and must all be born of the Spirit because, as the Master explains in our context, "That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit," and "flesh and blood cannot enter the kingdom of heaven." Hence those who would constitute the kingdom of heaven class must be born of the Spirit—must become spirit beings by regeneration.

The Second Birth.

The birth of the spirit will usher the church of Christ, by the first resurrection, into the spirit condition, in the Master's words. The birth of the spirit is the resurrection. We quite agree with our Methodist brethren of olden times that this expression, "We must be born again," has to do with the Lord's people in the present life as well as in the resurrection—that the new life to which we will then be born fully and completely has its beginning in the present life by the begetting of the Holy Spirit or regeneration, as many of the creeds express the matter. There is no conflict between us on this point, but we call attention to the matter that it may be appreciated, throw great light upon this subject.

(1) A birth may be said to have a beginning and a completion; the beginning is the begetting, the end is the birth, the interim is the period of development and quickening, foim development, making ready for the birth. No child is ever born that was not first begotten. (2) This transaction of birth, which begins at begetting and ends at birth, is the one which the Greek language, in which the New Testament scriptures were written, has but one word to represent both the begetting and the birth. Take your Greek testament or your Greek-English Concordance and you can readily prove to yourself what I say. You will find that the Greek word "gennao" is sometimes translated but of begat and sometimes, perhaps about an equal number of times each way, once it is rendered "conceived" (Matt. i:20), and likewise once rendered "delivered" (John xvi:21).

The translators of our common version seemed not to have been sufficiently critical in dealing with this word, and in numerous instances have translated it born where they should have translated it begat or begotten; in numerous other instances they have rendered the word begotten when they should have rendered it born. The difficulty arises in transferring the thought from the one language to the other. Whenever the word "gennao" is used figuratively respecting the beginning of the work of God in the heart it should be translated begotten or begetting; and whenever it refers to the completion of this work of grace, in the resurrection, it should be rendered birth or born. We are begotten of the Spirit now to the present life with a view to our birth of the Spirit in the resurrection.

Hold this thought respecting the meaning of the word "gennao" while we investigate further the significance of our text. "Except one be born again" is remembered that the preaching of our Lord and the apostles in the end of the Jewish age was "The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you." The Jews had been waiting for the coming of Messiah and His establishment of the kingdom for many centuries. Their expectations were based upon God's promise to Abraham, confirmed with an oath. Messiah must come, and through Him all the families of the earth must be blessed and Messiah must come through the Jewish nation. These were settled facts. When, therefore, Nicodemus and others of his time heard of Jesus and the claim that He was the Messiah, and when they knew that something of a wonderful miracles and works, mysteries were awakened in their minds as to whether or not these things were true, and it was to investigate this matter that Nicodemus visited Jesus on this occasion.

He recognized Jesus as an inspired teacher, and yet everything connected with His claim of Messiahship seemed so unreasonable, so unlikely, that he could not think of becoming a disciple unless the matter were more clearly demonstrated to his mind. The conversation was probably much longer than narrated in the gospel, which gives merely the pith of our Lord's discourse. Nicodemus was perplexed as to how Messiah's kingdom could come without earthly riches, without soldiers, etc., to break the power of the Roman yoke and to master the world. Our Lord gave him an entirely new thought when He told him that the kingdom of heaven would be of a different from that he was expecting. He told him plainly that "Except a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God;" the kingdom of God will be a spiritual one, and all who will be members of it must be spirit beings, as invisible to mankind as are the angels at the present time. The apostle Paul emphasizes this matter further, saying, "Flesh and blood cannot enter into the kingdom of God." All who expect to enter this kingdom must be all "changed."—(1 Cor. xv:51.)

A Spiritual Kingdom.

Nicodemus had never heard of a spiritual kingdom. He was looking entirely for an earthly one, and when Jesus informed him a man could ever be born again of his mother after he was old—falling totally to realize our Lord's meaning. Answering, the Lord repeated more strongly still the statement that begetting of the spirit is absolutely necessary to all who would be members of the kingdom. He said: "That which is born of the flesh is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." Nicodemus was astonished at the statement and asked, "How can these things be?" Our Lord then pressed the subject further, explaining that begetting and birth of the flesh produced a fleshly being, while a begetting and birth of the spirit would produce a spirit being. Verse 12 evidences that he was able to grasp the thought and our Lord proceeded to give an explanation of His teaching. Still Nicodemus could not comprehend the thought of a spirit being to him seemed enough unlike flesh that nothing would be nothing. Our Lord then gave an illustration of the matter, which we paraphrase and elaborate in line with His words, thus: The wind bloweth where it pleases; you cannot see it, but you can hear the sound of it; you cannot tell whence it comes nor whither it goeth; it uproots a tree, but because it is invisible and intangible you can neither tell whence it came nor whither it goes. So is every one that is born of the Spirit. All those constituting members of the glorified church class will be spirit beings, "born of the Spirit," invisible as the wind. They can go and come, and mankind cannot know whence they come nor whither they go. They will be present among men with full power, full control, but invisible to men. This, Nicodemus, will be the character of the kingdom of God, so different from what you have expected. This is the kingdom which I am now announcing, and if all and the nation of Israel would be a member of it, marvel not that I say unto you, ye must be born again to become spirit beings, and in order to be thus born again in the resurrection must be born of the Spirit now, for none will ever be born of the Spirit who is not first begotten of the Spirit.

How Christ Was "Born Again."

In harmony with the foregoing, note the fact that our Lord was declared to be in His resurrection "the first-born among many brethren," and "the first-born from among the dead." His brethren, the church class, the little flock of this gospel age, will all be born into His spiritual nature at first resurrection, as it is written, "Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection; on such the second death has no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him a thousand years." (Rev. xx:6.) Our Lord's resurrection is referred to three other times as a birth from the dead, but our common version has beclouded the thought by giving the word begotten instead of born. Such instances are in Acts xiii:33, Heb. i:5, v:5. These are quotations from the Psalms, and that they refer to our Lord's resurrection is evident from the apostolic explanation in the first instance.

Our Lord was begotten of the Holy Spirit at the time of His baptism, and the new spirit creature there begotten was born at His resurrection. Likewise His followers are begotten at the time of their full consecration, and if the new creature prospers the time of "quickening," of activity in the Lord's service, even in this mortal body, will be discernible; and if the growth in grace and knowledge and love in its divine likeness continue the result will surely be in each case a birth of the spirit—to the new nature, in the "first resurrection," described to the apostle, saying: "It is sown in dishonor; it is raised in glory; it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power; it is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body." (1 Cor. xv:43-45.)

If now we have the matter clearly before our minds, each one should ask the serious inquiry of himself: (1) Have I heard of the grace of God in providing through the sacrifice of Christ for the forgiveness of my sins and for the sins of the whole world? Have I realized and accepted gladly the Divine favor? Are my sins forgiven? Am I thus justified by faith before God? (2) Have I heard the great gospel message that divine favor is yet to reach every creature through Him who loved us and bought us by the precious blood? Have I heard of God's purpose to gather from among mankind a company of holy ones, who love righteousness and hate iniquity, and who are glad to follow in the footsteps of their Redeemer in sacrificing earthly interest that they may become participators with Him of the heavenly nature and its inheritance, the kingdom?

(3) Have I yet learned that this selection of a class began with the Jews, and include from that nation all who are Israelites indeed; and that these not being enough according to the divine arrangement, an opportunity to come into the kingdom class and be of the seed of Abraham has been extended to so many from amongst the Gentiles as might have the hearing ear and the obedient heart? Has this invitation come to me? Have I heeded it? Have I the sense of accepting the same?

(4) Do I now understand from the Master's explanation of this subject that all who will be the chosen of Him in the Kingdom must be like Him, sharers of the "divine nature" (II Peter, 1-4) and spirit beings, and that in order to be a spirit being and to participate in that glorious condition I must be begotten of the Holy Spirit and must then be chastened and developed and fitted for the spirit conditions?

(5) Have I accepted the conditions? Have I consecrated my justified self wholly and unreservedly to the Lord for time and for eternity—including all that I possess of time, talent, influence, earthly home?

(6) If I have thus done, if I have received a begetting of the Spirit, if I can, therefore, count myself a new creature in Christ Jesus, to whom "old things have passed away" and to whom all things have become new, and striving to the extent of my ability even in the present life in accord with the new mind, the new nature? Am I thus developing it at the expense of the fleshly nature? Am I thus making my calling and election sure?

(7) Have I before my mind the hopes and ambitions which the Lord enlisted upon His faithful through the apostle, saying: "Set your affection on things above and not on things of the earth"—"for your citizenship is in heaven"? Am I living for the flesh, or am I living for the spirit? Am I laboring the increase of the spiritual nature, which, if faithful, I shall enter upon in the resurrection birth, or am I neglecting these and in danger of becoming a castaway, as to this great kingdom privilege, succeed, in my striving to grasp the transitory things of this present life, which are not worthy to be compared with the glorious things which the Lord has in reservation for them that love Him?

The World's Regeneration.

In what we have said, and, indeed, throughout the New Testament, the regeneration of the church is the theme, because this gospel age is chiefly intended for the development of the little flock, the bride class, the kingdom class. Nevertheless, the scriptures point out that those of the world who would attain eternal life in the next age must pass through experiences somewhat like those through which the church is now passing; in other words, the world must be born again or regenerated, however, to spirit nature, as in the case of the church, but regenerated to human nature. When the apostles asked the Lord what they should have as a reward for their loyalty to Him in the regeneration, He replied, "Ye that have followed me in the regeneration shall sit upon 12 thrones judging the 12 tribes of Israel." (Matt. xix:28.) In other words, those who now follow the Lord's steps through evil report and through good report in the narrow way, as do also are now begotten to the spirit nature will by and by be born of the spirit and be exalted to sit in the throne of the Lord in the throne of the world, and this will take place "in the regeneration"—in the time when the regeneration of the world will be the great matter in hand, the great and blessed work of the thousand years of Christ's millennial kingdom. O Lord, "Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, even as it is done in heaven."

Despite the efforts to eliminate from the Bible every vestige of the supernatural, despite the efforts to explain away its miracles, despite the efforts to make it a mere human production, it still remains the most wonderful book in the world. Its influence is still the most powerful for good. Its hold upon the human heart is still the strongest. Its power to regenerate the individual is still the most marvelous. FALCONIO SOON SAILS.

Apostolic Delegate Brings With Him Special Papal Benediction for Mission.

ROME, July 17.—Monsignor Falconio, apostolic delegate to the United States, left Rome today for Naples, where he will remain for a few days before sailing for New York. He took with him a special papal benediction for his mission in the United States.

Monsignor Falconio says he would be glad to return to his work in the United States, which he had come to regard with a deep affection. He said farewell at the railway station to many notables of the clerical world, who wished him a safe journey, and expressed the hope that he would soon be recalled to Rome to receive the red hat.

Miles on Miles

Are walked by the billiard player, as he moves around the table. That is the only exercise many a city man gets. It is this lack of exercise in the shut-in-life of the city, combined with irregular eating and indigestible dishes which tend to make the city man the victim of "stomach trouble."

When there is undue fulness after eating, with belching, sour risings and other distressing symptoms, a prompt use of Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy cure. In the most extreme cases of disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, the persistent use of the "Discovery" will result in a complete cure in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred.

"The praise I would like to give your 'Golden Medical Discovery' I cannot utter in words or describe with pen," writes James B. Ambrose, Esq., of 1205½ Mifflin Street, Huntingdon, Pa. "I was taken down with what our physicians said was indigestion. I doctored with the best around here and found no relief. I wrote to you and you sent me a question blank to fill out and I did so and you then advised me to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took three bottles and I felt so good that I stopped—being, as I thought, well. I had no symptoms of gastric trouble or indigestion now."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper covered book, or 31 stamps for cloth bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CHAUTAUQUA

CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., July 17.—(Special.)—Sunday was the warmest day Chautauqua has had this season, but the heat did not keep the people from attending the various services during the day. It was only the signal for the girls and women to don their airiest gowns. The chautauquan presented a very attractive appearance at the morning service when Dr. Hulley, formerly of Bucknell university and recently appointed president of Stetson university, Florida, delivered a most excellent sermon on "He That Ruleth His Spirit Is Greater Than He That Taketh a City." Dr. Hulley's sermon was full of pertinent remarks and homely truths. Dr. Hulley is among the most versatile of platform speakers, equally felicitous in Bible studies, as a preacher, as an after-dinner speaker and as a lecturer on literary topics. He last night closed the Chautauqua hours during the coming week. The study consisted of a lecture by Prof. Richard G. Moulton on "Jeremiah, a Prophetic Autobiography," in which Prof. Moulton dwelt at length on "Jeremiah as a Man of Action and as a Poet."

Devotional services were held in the various denominational houses this morning at 10 o'clock. Each Sunday afternoon there are four services held at 3 o'clock for the definite study of the Bible. The first of these, the assembly convocation, held in the amphitheater, is conducted each week by a different leader, and is planned for the needs and interests of the adult Sunday school students on the grounds, who during the winter months are either teachers or members of the advanced Bible classes. Under the leadership of the Rev. E. W. Morton the intermediate school is held for children above the age of 12. Children from 6 to 9 years of age meet for what is called primary work under the direction of various leaders. For the smallest children of all, Miss Elliott of Savannah, Ga., conducts the kindergarten. As far as possible Chautauquans are urged to go to the classes which are definitely planned for them.

FURTHER GAINS IN VALUES DURING THE PAST WEEK

Stock Market Is Broadened and the Volume of Business Much Larger—Professional Manipulation on Large Scale Is Apparent.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—Stocks enjoyed improvement during the week closed, adding materially to the gains in values made so emphatically in the previous week. The market was broadened and the volume of business much larger. It can hardly be said that the influences at work in the enlargement of business and for the establishment of higher prices were as substantial and lasting as those which shaped the course of the market in the first week of the present month. In fact, professional manipulation on a comparatively large scale was apparent in the closing days of last week. The operations for professional account made headway, however, even if the public showed little intention of being attracted by the rising scale of prices. The movements were rendered easy of fruition because of the lack of selling pressure. The absence of this pressure was probably more noteworthy than the advances engineered by the traders.

The rank and file of the public still shows a disposition to wait for the rounding out of influences at work which may make or mar the market. The better sentiment prevailing in business circles because of the condition of the crops has had full swing in the security market. Prices of all the standard stocks have advanced on an average of from two to five points in the last fortnight, while others more specifically affected by developments have advanced even more. Still the market, in the opinion of the enthusiastic professional element, has not begun to discount the improvement and is building up higher ranges of prices on the expectation of a continuation of favorable crop conditions.

In actual business, which provides the basis for a sustained improvement, there has been no change. As was indicated in these columns last week, the sentiment on the outlook is more hopeful, but sentiment has not yet brought any new orders. Like the conservative element in the stock market business men are waiting for the turn when there will be reasonable basis enough for purchases of commodities. One does not need go far to observe that this critical moment has not arrived when statistics and other trade data are considered. In the steel business the retrenchment process is still under way. Pig iron consumption is still decreasing and the producers are still limiting their output. Labor gives evidence of refusing to accept any reductions in wages from employers, the real barometer of coming events, refuse to advance beyond the current unprofitable rates at which funds are being employed. Corporations continue to omit their dividends, as was witnessed last week, when the Monongahela Coal and Coke Company, one of the largest producers in the soft coal industry, suspended its dividend. Still, with these conditions and unsettling facts in evidence, the market operators profess to see in the future a brighter outlook with improved earnings of corporations. The influences are that the total wheat crop to be reaped will be more than below the normal. The general expectation of the grain trade is that the total crop of wheat to be harvested this year will not amount to more than 600,000,000 bushels. That there are no stores left over from last year's yield seems to be brought out by the remarkable decrease in the world's stocks and the falling off in local shipments, even with cash wheat selling at the dollar mark at the seaboard.

GRAIN MARKETS ALL CLOSE NEARLY AT HIGH POINT

Good Gain Made in Wheat Pit Despite Reports of Good Weather.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, July 16.—Lower cables and greatly improved weather conditions throughout the country brought a few selling orders in the wheat pit at the opening. For the first few moments of trading the sentiment had an easier tone, but selling the orders had been disposed of, September sold easily. The northwest, however, sent in buying orders on the small opening decline. The northwest orders caused an active demand from pit brokers. Shorts covered fully as there was very little disposition to carry lines over Sunday, in view of the uncertainty of the weather. In the northwest the weather was extremely hot and there was considerable apprehension among wheat traders here as a combination of wet grounds and the high temperatures was thought liable to injure the growing crops. The situation in the spring wheat territory was the main bull factor of the day. Thereby cut the greater part of the session sentiment in the pit was decidedly bullish, and at the close all deliveries showed a gain of about a cent over last night. FRED CLARKE OUT OF GAME FOR TWO WEEKS, IT IS FEARED

Catch, Which Resulted in Fall, Did More Damage Than First Thought.

Clubs to Play for Championship of the Allegheny Valley Arranging Schedule.

GOSSIP ANENT THE PLAYERS

THE 'SCHOLASTICS DISBAND

Fred Clarke will probably not be able to play his position in left field for two weeks. A sore limb, which was aggravated by the fall after making a sensational catch in last Friday's game against Philadelphia, has put him out of the game. It is feared that other complications will arise, necessitating his absence from the diamond for some time.

Clarke is under a physician's care, and all day yesterday he was confined to his room. He may be on the bench this afternoon, but it is not likely he will even have on a uniform.

"Harry Smith is undoubtedly catching the best ball in the league," declared "Kitty" Bransfield yesterday. "His throwing is superb and probably he doesn't keep the base runners close to the bags."

Claude Elliott, the giant's big pitcher, secured recently from Cincinnati, is what the best dressed ball players of the league by the New York players. Elliott is a tall, well built fellow, and makes a fine appearance. Saturday, it is said, he changed his attire four times.

"It was just a plain muff," says Otto Krueger. "I got under the ball and had it, but it got away." This is in reference to Otto's muff in the first inning Saturday.

Sam Leever will probably be on the rubber this afternoon. Manager McGraw did not say yesterday who would be on the firing line for him, but Mathewson is thought to be his selection.

Minneapolis and Indianapolis were to play two games Saturday, but only the first was finished, being called in the middle of the fourth, in the first inning of the second game, after Indianapolis and Minneapolis had each scored one run. Magoon tried to block two Minneapolis base runners between second and third. On the second offense Umpire Bausewine ordered the offender from the game. After calling Bausewine a few names Magoon started for the bench, but stopped to talk once more, and Bausewine declared the game forfeited to Minneapolis.

SOUTH BEND, IND., July 17.—Three hits and an error gave South Bend two runs in the second. Poor fielding gave them two more in the seventh, which won the game. Score:

DAYTON, July 17.—Dayton won a double-header from Peoria today by all-around superior playing. In the last game Lang allowed no hits while in the first the visitors batted Johns for only three singles. Scores:

William "Lefty" Jackson leaves this morning to join the Warren, O., team, to play the outfield. Warren plays today at Youngstown and Jackson was advised last night by the Warren club to play against his former team mates.

Jackson played the outfield and pitched for Warren last season. He started this year with Youngstown, but a bad arm sent him to the stable to rest. He has been playing middle field for F. A. C.

A series to decide the championship of the Allegheny valley will likely be arranged soon. Baseball in this section is at a high mark and the fans are clamoring for more interesting contests. Brackenridge, Natrona, Freeport and Vandergrift seem to be doing the best in the sport this season, and these towns will, according to indications, arrange a schedule.

The Interscholastic baseball team disbanded after the game at Rochester Saturday. After the big games the boys were fain to quit for lack of practice. Until last yesterday morning for Point Chautauqua, N. Y., for the first Pays, Tom Upperraf, Frank Spindler and Harry Bailey left last night for the same place. Joe Edwards and Low Duvae of the East Liberty academy and "Whitey" Cobolo of Kiski also went last night. Charlie Duffy, the first baseman, will leave for Chautauqua soon. These players will form a team there and play against other independent clubs in that part of the country.

"Lefty" Smith, released by Waynesburg, will sign with the Fairmont team to pitch.

Bill Coleman, the big southpaw pitcher, who has been with Braddock for some time, is on the sick list.

Homestead leaves today on a trip through West Virginia and Maryland. Risher will have his tribe away one week.

Harvey Clarke, the Wooster (O.) pitcher, who jumped the Birmingham Southern league club, will rejoin that club. He was to have finished the season with Johnstown, but the Birmingham management made peace with him again.

Burgess Ed Bickey announces the following schedule for his Riverside team: July 20, Kanes; July 23; B. and C. B. H.; July 27-28, Fairbanks; July 30; Nuttalls, August 6; Fairbanks, August 13. Bickey is getting his team in shape for the big games, which he generally gets started in the fall.

F. A. C. will not play at Friendship park this week. They would like to arrange for a game away from home for Wednesday and Thursday and also for next Saturday, the 23d. They will be back at Friendship park next week for the usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday games. Any team desiring to arrange games can write or wire L. H. Wentz, P. O. Box 542, city. Tomorrow evening Manager Wentz will take his team to Duquesne Heights, to play the fast team of amateurs, a team he organized two years ago and which is now playing such good ball under Manager Jack Boyce.

"Jake" Moffet is to be at this office tonight.

"Farmer" Brown, the local twirler, who finished last year with Homestead, is pitching great ball for Memphis. The Southern league Saturday he won an 11-inning game from Birmingham, "Dusty" Miller hitting for a home run.

Another local pitcher doing well in the Southern league is Arthur Goodwin, a Waynesburg boy. Several days ago he pitched a 1 to 0 game against Nashville, and Monday night won a 2 to 1 game from New Orleans. He followed up this work by beating Little Rock 4 to 0. Goodwin is pitching for Memphis. Little Rock got but three hits off him.

"Wartime (ads) exist in the minors, and extravagant prices are asked for players. "I can't see where any experimental outfielder is worth an outlay of $2,000," said Manager Joe Kelley. "This is an era of boosting. The players who come in from the minors touted to steal bases in bunches discover that they don't know the way to second when they get to the big league. St. Louis got a man over whom absolutely no fuss was made, and yet I consider Spike Shannon one of the finds of the year. He has made good without a press agent."

J. Peck Sharp, one of the wittiest players of his day and the Artie Latham of the minors, has had some hard luck, financially. He tells about his troubles in a letter that a Chicago paper runs in full. Says J. Peck: "When I left Chicago about two months ago I was the happiest man you ever saw. Having cleaned myself about 700 or 800 bucks strong on the season closed. When I could see Dan Johnson and Charles Comiskey and Tom Loftus all shaking hands with me, and Johnson trying to get me to put my name to a two contract to umpire in his league, and Comiskey and Loftus urging me to sign, but it all came to an end when I arrived in Butte. I was umpiring a game that day on a Saturday and the score was very close. I called a Butte player out at second base, and in just one second there was a thousand miners around me. They came right through the ground. I flew right behind second base. I got hit with one or two ounces of copper and gold nuggets. I want to tell you something. There wasn't anybody asked me to take a drink or shake hands. My hand to all the six weeks I umpired out there. Any time you see a fellow umpiring you can make up your mind that he can't do anything else. When I got through I was quite a crowd around a fellow on a street corner, and I butted in to see what was going on, and there was a fellow selling something. He grabbed me by the hand and said: 'Young man, let me take some of them grease spots out of your clothes.' I says: 'Go ahead, for that is all you can get out of 'em.' I received a letter from the president of the league I worked for, and he stated in his letter that I was indefinitely suspended for jumping my contract. I have written to him and told him he would do me a great favor if he would just make it for life. Now, if I can get me a ticket into Chicago, and get me one of them white suits and a broom, I will go to work for the city. It will beat umpiring."

Dennis Ryan, third baseman on the Shamrock team, whose spiking has incensed the fans at Warren Saturday, will be out of the game for several weeks.

Rochester Litchfield will stay with Rochester for Litchfield's leading club archer.

CHAMPION JONES ADVISES JUMPERS

Tells How Youngsters Can Develop Muscles and Advance at Running High Jump.

NERVES MUST BE STRONG

By S. S. JONES.
(American Champion.)

In giving careful consideration to the conformation of man's form and reasons attached thereto the one thing that impresses us most is the length and strength of the lower limbs. An analysis of the muscles below the waist shows that they are arranged principally for three movements which have a similarity of action—namely, walking, running and jumping.

Every normally developed person can both walk and run, but how few men and boys can jump a rail waist high! The reason of this would appear to be that outside of a few cases where an individual is possessed of phenomenal spring, success is a matter of practice and cultivation of the muscles and nerves which control the upward propelling motion of the body.

Up to the time I was 16 years of age I could not do four feet. After six months assiduous practice I was sure of clearing this height, and had improved six inches in another six months. Within a year and a half I could jump five feet, but it took constant practice for another 18 months before I at last succeeded in getting over a bar six feet in height.

In starting I would point to the time I took before my efforts were rewarded and one don't get discouraged early in the game. Every boy, if he will be patient and stick to it, can meet with some success in the high jump; but for those boys who desire to get into athletics but are not strong enough to train for long distance running, this is the event which they can possibly succeed in comparing favorably with their stronger constituted schoolmates.

In commencing practice for the high jump the legs must first be got into condition. The best way to accomplish this is to take constant sprints from 20 to 50 yards; this strengthens and gives snap. For the next week also take a daily jog on the toes of 200 or 300 yards.

The actual jumping can then be commenced, alternating each day with sprinting. In starting place the bar at a height at which you can about four feet, or less if this appears to be a strain.

The proper run, take off and style of turning when going over the bar must then be studied and practiced rather than increasing the height.

The take off can be gauged in the following way: Stand under the bar and raise the foot till it can just touch the bar. The spot on which you stand is about the best from which to make your spring.

Having found the take off, take four strides similar to those you take in your run and make a mark.

The object of this is plain. By striking the mark with the jumping foot each time the four following strides will bring you to the correct "take off."

After practicing in this way you will soon find you are reaching the best place in which to make your jump from, and can regulate it in the above method. Personally, I take off from about 40 inches away from the bar for the highest jump.

The object in acquiring the accurate "take off" is so that the parabola described by the body in flight will reach its apex directly over the bar.

The parabola described by the body—a high jump should have as much height and as little width at the base as possible. In order to accomplish this the beginning of the take off must be a momentary halt when springing. This will prevent the body from shooting horizontally against the bar and will cause the lift to be more vertical. Such a spring, supplemented by the swing from the arms, embraces the acme of economy of power.

The arm motion here spoken of is all important and must receive close attention. Perhaps most jumpers use a style which they think gives the greatest spring, namely, the one I use the most logical. The motion should be made at the time that the legs are drawn up to go over the bar, and is as follows: Raise the right arm well up, extended, and at the same time bring the left arm bent across the chest and up past the chin. This action must be made very fast and with the utmost snap.

It will be found to bring the body around so that the lift will escape the bar, while it also both lifts and propels the body over the bar.

In learning to jump always use a straight run. The oblique run and scissor motion is a waste of energy, as the body has to be lifted higher each jump, as you cannot turn on the side as in a jump made in a direct line at right angles. At least five inches is saved by using the straight run instead of the slant.

When landing, always try to come down on both feet together and let the body sag off to prevent a jar. Do this at all low heights, so that it will be natural when the real strain comes as the bar is raised.

Practice is necessary to success, and jumping at a low height should be done every alternate day, but not for over 15 minutes at a time.

This will be found sufficient to bring about noticeable improvement. Once a week is often enough to try your best.

Before competing take a week's rest, and just prior to actually jumping a few sprint starts of 20 yards or so will limber up the muscles.

Exercise for the abnormal and lower back muscles is necessary, they being used considerably when making the effort to clear the bar.

The best and simplest way to strengthen these parts is to be on the floor and raise the legs, stiff-kneed, over the head, bringing them down again, but not permitting the heels to touch the floor. Repeat this exercise till tired.

All-round gymnasium work is good for a jumper, as he uses his whole muscular system. Handball and such games will be found of assistance as developers, but skating and rowing are not advisable.

The high jumper must have his nerves in good shape. He needs them as the bar goes up. The use of alcoholic habits and the avoidance of tobacco in any form.

The stomach needs to be kept in good shape, as a bad one will take the snap out of a man and probably cause cramps, which many jumpers are subject to.

With the strict observance of the rules here laid down and conscientious practice any boy can improve, and some may no doubt assume championship honors.

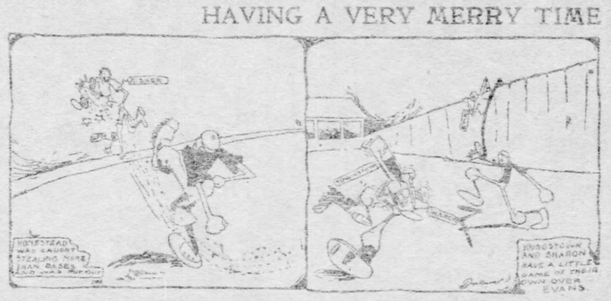
INDEPENDENT ASSOCIATION IS HAVING A VERY MERRY TIME



SYSONBY GOOD TWO-YEAR-OLD

James R. Keene Seeks to Improve Breed of American Thoroughbreds.

SPENDS LOTS OF MONEY

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 17.—It was a pleasant relief experienced on Saturday to know that there is at least one good two-year-old of 1904, Sysonby, and that we are not destined to go through the season confined to a lot of stake colts which are of such moderate caliber that they continually beat one another and cannot be relied upon to show two successive performances alike. Both James R. Keene and Foxhall Keene, father and son, believe firmly that in Sysonby they have a worthy successor to Domino, a colt superior to Commando, who has been looked upon as the best two-year-old for several seasons past.

To James R. Keene the greatest credit is due from all lovers of the thoroughbred, for he of all men—not even excepting J. S. Haggin with his wonderful breeding studhas sought strenuously to improve the breed of American thoroughbreds, and there is a large admixture of Castleton breed in the majority of the blue-blooded individuals now in the stud book.

In speaking in such terms of the Castleton breed, it must not be overlooked that it is to the late Marcus Daly to whom we are mainly indebted for the origin of this colt, Sysonby.

It was he who owned the gracefully bred Ogden at the time when she was bred, and what is true of this one great young mare is true also of many which came to this country at the time of his death. He wanted the best blood extant, and to want with him meant to have, for he permitted no monetary considerations to stand in his way.

The Aperfield court mares which came to this country in 1901 and went under the hammer were considered both here and in England to be one of the choicest collections ever received from one stud. Fortunately the whole lot passed into the hands of the best breeders and men such as W. C. Whitney, August Belmont, James R. Keene, John E. Madden and J. B. Haggin secured the majority. The average price received for these was $5,056, an unprecedented price.

It is to men such as these that finely bred thoroughbreds developed in this country are mainly due, and that the colt Sysonby is a colt of rare quality is generally admitted by men well known in turf circles and connected with the best of breeding farms.

WESTERN RESERVE PLANS TO FIGHT CONSUMPTION

University Establishes Second Anti-Tubercular Dispensary in the United States.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., July 17.—The trustees of Western Reserve university have voted to establish an anti-tubercular dispensary in connection with the medical school. This is the second dispensary of the kind to be opened in the United States. In France and Germany the dispensary has already come to represent a most effective instrument in the crusade against tuberculosis. Co-operating with the medical faculty in the work of the dispensary are the Association of Nurses and the Associated Charities of Cleveland.

The function of the dispensary in the anti-tubercular movement is chiefly preventive. It registers those who are infected with the disease, locates houses in which tubercular people live and regulates the people in fundamental hygienics. Its agents visit the homes of the sick, giving instruction in the care of those afflicted with the disease.
